HISTORIAN'S PREFACE

This record of the Frary Family in America was started in 1966 by my husband, Philip Arthur Frary, and myself, as a simple memento for the sole interest of our three daughters and their descendants. After his death in 1968, I continued to search, and my absorption in this interesting and widely scattered family carried me far beyond what was originally intended. When the Frary Family Association was formed in 1970, I had about 1000 names, which quickly increased through interested Association members. Much credit is due to Charles S. Frary, Jr., Corresponding Secretary and Editor of the Frary Family Journal and Newsletter, for his untiring efforts in keeping the Association a growing organization.

Publication of this book would not be possible at this time if Anne Frary Lepak had not moved to the Washington, DC, area in 1976 and offered to help. With access to the National Archives, her expertise and enthusiasm in genealogical work was the impetus toward completion of all lines.

This record of John Frary and his descendants has been compiled from census, church, cemetery, county, probate, vital and National Archives records; city directories; newspaper items; genealogies of allied families and information sent by family members. Many former records were found to be in error, and even family members have sometimes not agreed on dates. In these cases, we have had to choose the dates or details sent by most of them or the ones which seemed correct. Compilation has been tedious and sometimes frustrating but always interesting. The many friendships made through correspondence has made it doubly pleasant, and we thank all of you for your help and encouragement through the years.

Like all genealogies, this record is neither complete nor without possible errors, and we will be pleased to receive additions and corrections. This information may be sent to me or to Anne at the addresses given below. After some time, it is our intention that our records on which this genealogy is based will be deposited with the Frary Family Association or the Library of the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association in Deerfield, MA.

Anne and I especially wish to thank those who have done extensive research beyond that needed for their own branches:

EDITOR'S PREFACE

Publication of this volume has been possible only through the efforts of a great many people. Of course, primary credit must go to Margaret "Marty" Murphy Frary and Anne Frary Lepak, Frary Family Historians. Their untiring efforts and painstaking research over a period of nearly 15 years deserve the sincere appreciation and warmest thanks of all who read this book. They in turn have thanked the many contributors of information with whom they have corresponded over the years.

The Frary Family Association has also been directly instrumental in bringing forth this book. Only through their financial support could publication have been undertaken. Sales and other aspects of the project have been under the direct oversight of Charles S. Frary, Jr., a founder of the Association, its Corresponding Secretary and Editor (since founding) of its newsletter and journal. We are all in debt to him for his years of patient work toward eventual publication of our genealogy and in nurturing the Frary Family Association.

More broadly, we are in debt to all Frarys, past and present, whose lives this genealogy records and memorializes. Their accomplishments have contributed in full measure to the New World to which John and Prudence Frary went forth so long ago.

Chapter 1--OVERVIEW

So far as is known, the earliest Frarys in America were John, his wife, Prudence, and their three sons, who had settled in or near Watertown, MA, by 1637. They came from Norwich, county Norfolk, England, where John was a cordwainer or shoemaker. The Frary name suggests that the family lived near a friary or monastery at one time. When English commoners first took surnames, about the fourteenth century, the names they chose denoted occupations (Baker, Miller), places where they lived (Hill, Woods), or other characteristics to distinguish one family from another. One historian, finding no Frary among early English names, thought that the first Frary in England might have gone there from France or Scotland {14 v2:177}. However, Dictionary of British Surnames (P. H. Reaney, 1958) lists John and William Frary, freemen of Norwich, with a date of 1372. Whatever their origin, all Frarys we have located in England, from about 1600 to the present, have been in or from Norfolk.

During John's lifetime in America, Frary was spelled in various ways: Frairy (most often), Frayrey, etc. However, earlier English documents show the same spelling as at present. John's sons and their descendants used the present spelling, though misspellings are common on official documents. Frary records have been found under Tracy and almost 80 other spellings beginning with F, T, or P, with many vowel combinations, and sometimes with only one r.

Not long after their arrival in America, the Frarys moved inland to the new town of Dedham, where John served as a founder of the church. Thus it is reasonable to assume that his main purpose for leaving England was to escape religious tyranny as practiced by Wren, the Anglican Bishop of Norwich at that time. Two other Norfolk men who came to Dedham, the Rev. John Allin and Michael Metcalf, are commonly said to have come for that reason.

No Frary coat of arms has been found, but, even if there were one, the right to its use, passed from father to son, could not extend to John's descendants unless his father and ancestry were learned. Thus far that information eludes us. However, John received enough education to enable him to sign his name, instead of making a mark as many did; and, doubtless, he served the seven-year apprenticeship required in England for the cordwainer's trade. In America he was a landowner, a church member, a freeman and a leader in civic affairs. As such he was a respected member of the middle class, who formed the backbone of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, with their high moral values, their willingness to sacrifice and work, and their dedication to the community's needs. We can be proud to call him an ancestor.

The colonial Frarys migrated slowly from the Boston area, with only two families of the second generation moving 70 miles westward to form new towns on the Connecticut River. There they remained for two generations, ranging from northern Massachusetts to central Connecticut. By 1800, a few of the fourth, fifth and sixth generations had spread into New Hampshire, Vermont and New York. In 1790, the first federal census listed 22 Frary households comprised of 68 males and 67 females. The census of 1800 again listed 22 households, but with 80 males and 66 females. All were descendants of John and Prudence of Massachusetts.

Most of these early Frarys were farmers and craftsmen. By the early 1800's, men of the sixth and seventh generations engaged more in commerce, and many became physicians, scientists, educators, authors, industrialists, and clergymen. However, there seemed little, if any, inclination to study law. By the 1900's, several Frary women became active in careers, and a great diversity of occupations for both men and women continues to the present.

Town and county histories attest that Frarys were often community leaders, holding office in many areas, with some, in the early 1700's, going to Boston to represent their towns at the General Court, which governed the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Wherever there have been Frarys, they have served when needed in military units from the earliest colonial militias to the present-day United States Armed Forces. During the Revolutionary War, there were many Frarys fighting for independence, both soldiers and sailors, while others produced military supplies and some served in civil capacities. So far, no record of a Tory has been found in the family.

In religious matters, most Frarys were loyal members of their town churches and apparently remained Congregationalists (except for a Baptist branch in Vermont) until the mid-1800's. Gradually some turned to other Protestant denominations and others to Roman Catholicism, following their marriages to immigrants from Canada, Ireland, and elsewhere.

As the years passed, two branches established homes in Canada, in Ontario and Quebec. Other descendants of the colonial family moved west and southwest. They were joined by new Frarys and Frareys from Canada and several European countries, who, by 1850, made up about two percent of Americans with the Frary name. The census of that year listed 121 Frary families in 16 states: CA 1, CT 4, DC 1, IL 7, IN 4, KY 1, MA 25, MI 10, MO 1, NH 5, NJ 2, NY 34, OH 19, VT 1, VA 1, and WI 5. By 1900, Frarys lived coast to coast, from Maine and Florida to Washington and California. They have been pioneers in most areas of the country and are continuing that trend in Alaska and Australia.

The Frary Family Association

To the founders of the Frary Family Association, the genealogy of their family branch, though simple, was an open book, thanks to the research of Hobart Dickinson Frary, which had been distributed as typewritten copy to his cousins around 1910. The importance of the Deerfield, MA, "Frary House" of Miss C. Alice Baker had been recognized by him.

In November, 1968, correspondence among Louise Collis Thresher, Thomas Creswell Frary and his brother, Charles Samuel Frary, Jr., direct cousins, established a mutual interest in the possibility of attracting other Frary descendants to a meeting that might result in a formal association. All New England and New York telephone books and others in the Boston Public Library, as well as many found elsewhere on business trips, were examined, and a surprising 200 Frarys were located in this way.

The first letter to these "cousins" was sent April 1, 1970, and an organizational meeting was set for June 27, 1970, in Deerfield, where the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association and later the Heritage Foundation, Inc. (now Historic Deerfield, Inc.) was maintaining Nathaniel Frary's eighteenth century house and several others.

The meeting was attended by 65 organizing members and was chaired by Charles J. Micoleau. Bylaws were adopted under which it was established that annual meetings were to be scheduled and a journal and newsletter published. The following purposes of the Association were adopted:

The promotion of the knowledge and history of the Frary family and its descendants in America and elsewhere;
The furtherance of research on, and the recording of, the past and present members of the Frary branches from early times;
Assistance in the protection and preservation of FRARY HOUSE and its mementoes;
The fostering of family fellowship and awareness through meetings and publications;
The promotion of group activities by the Family in support of Family interests and welfare.

By February, 1971, 500 names were on the Association's mailing list and 159 had responded to letters.

Since that time, 16 newsletters and two issues of the Frary Family Journal have been published, the mailing list has grown to 950, and the Association has gained status with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service as a nonprofit organization, contributions to which are tax deductible. In 1978, the accumulated genealogical files of Historians Margaret "Marty" M. Frary and Anne Frary Lepak provided sufficient material to warrant the decision by the Association to adopt the publishing of a genealogy as a project. This volume is the result.

Organization and Format of the Genealogy

John and Prudence Frary had many children, but only two established male lines of descent, namely, Samson and Eleazer. Chapter II is about John and Prudence and covers their family with the exception of Samson and Eleazer. Chapter III covers Samson and his descendants, and Chapter IV (much longer) is devoted to Eleazer's line of descent.

Within Chapters III and IV, each person born a Frary is assigned a number in either of two sequences, S numbers and E numbers, according to descent from Samson or Eleazer. Unmarried sons and married sons who had no children are shown only with their parents' family listings. Sons who had at least one child are marked with a + sign and are shown again with their family listings along with others of their generation. Each son so continued has the same number, both as a child and as a family head. Family listings are in sequence according to the numbers of their heads.

Children of Frary daughters are listed with their mothers, as a), b), c), etc., with their birthdates and data on spouses and children, when known. Due to space limitations, these entries are restricted to two lines and are not listed in subsequent generations. However, more information might be obtained from family histories written for the surnames of their fathers. We regret that it was not possible to include the hundreds of stepchildren (except adopted) who were raised by Frary fathers and mothers.

Use the index to locate a particular person, and then his ancestors and descendants may be easily traced, generation by generation. To find the parents of a family head, look for his number as a child in the previous generation. To find the children of a Frary man with a + sign, look for his number as a family head in the following generation.

Generation numbers follow first names of family members. The oldest identified person in each family is assigned a 1; thus John Frary of Dedham is John[1]. His children are assigned 2's, his grandchildren 3's, etc. For example, the lineage of Nathan[4] is: Nathaniel[3], Samson[2], John[1]. This means that Nathan's father was Nathaniel; his grandfather was Samson; and his great-grandfather was John, the emigrant. A lineage follows the names of most family heads, but when there were two or more brothers, it is given only for the first, but applies to all.

For a number of entries, double dates will be given, for example, 1703/4. According to the Old Style calendar, used prior to September, 1752, the year began on March 25. Thus all dates from January 1 through March 24 were the same year as the previous nine months. March 1, 1703, Old Style, would be March 1, 1704, New Style, and is indicated in this volume by the double date of 1703/4.

Chapter V covers Frarys whose lineage remains untraced but who are probably descendants of John and Prudence. Chapter VI covers families from various countries, many of whom spell the name Frarey. In addition, this chapter includes some families who have adopted the Frary name in place of similar sounding names of non-English origin, such as Ferrari.

Books, journals and documents on which text and listing are based are listed after Chapter VI. Within the text, {2:5-7} means reference no. 2 in the list, pages 5 through 7; {10 v2:257,268} means reference no. 10, volume 2, pages 257 and 268.

Numerous abbreviations have been adopted and used throughout the volume to save space. Most of these are obvious; however the following are listed for the convenience of the reader:

Chapter II--JOHN FRARY AND HIS FAMILY

JOHN[1] FRARY
b. ab. 1600, England, probably in Norfolk; parents and place unknown[1]; d. June 14, 1675, Medfield, Suffolk Co., MA (VR). He m. June 17, 1628, at Norwich, St. George Colegate Parish, Norfolk, Prudence Townsend; bp. June 28, 1601, at Norwich, St. Mary Coslany Parish, Norfolk; dau. of Edmund Townsend {1}; d. Feb. 24, 1690/1, ae ab. 90, Boston, MA {14 v2:177}.

John Frary was admitted a freeman of Norwich on Feb. 25, 1627, following apprenticeship to the cordwainer, Richard Gryme {368}. About 1636-37, John and Prudence, with their sons, Theophilus and John, Jr., and probably Samson, left Norwich and arrived in Massachusetts, probably Watertown. Their future home, Dedham, about 10 miles away and still not organized, was the frontier of civilization. It took courage to leave the seacoast colonies to go inland, but Watertown had ceased granting land to new settlers in 1635 {12:12}, and this development no doubt promped a group there to plan a new town. A Dedham historian writes: "John Frary, on Nov. 28, 1637, was propounded with Robert Williams for John Dwight's gratification lot, but they were not present; he signed the Covenant; and on Feb. 20, 1637/8, they were assigned the lot . . . Frary's lot was on East Street just south of Walnut Street." Today it is part of Endicott Park {2:168-9}.

This was a strongly religious group, homogeneous in their views concerning morality and opposed to contrary-minded thinkers. Eight upright men were required to act as church founders, men of "proper" beliefs and character; many were examined and found wanting, but "Jo Frayrey" was one of the first chosen. The town record says, "These 8 p'sons . . . wer sett a part by ye lord for this service" {4 v2:6,9,13}.

John took the freeman's oath March 13, 1638/9 {3 v3:96}, and participated in town affairs; received grants and purchased land; was woodreeve and constable at times {3 v22:165}. In 1651 he owned a modest home valued at nine pounds {4 v3:see index}. As a

[1] The following English record is of interest: "John Frary, son of Henry Frary, christened 28 Oct. 1604 at North Walsham, Norfolk" {1}. A thorough search of all microfilmed co. Norfolk parish records reveals no other John Frary of suitable age to have married Prudence Townsend. However, records from many parishes are missing. While the North Walsham man "fits," it is not possible to conclude at this time that he was John Frary of Dedham.

cordwainer and bootmaker he was considered an artistic workman, and it is said that he also farmed {14 v2:177-180}. When Boston shoemakers formed a monopoly in 1648, those in the surrounding towns, led by Gawen Anderson, Robert Williams and John "Franey," petitioned the General Court, to whom they wrote: "Keeping out Country shoomakers from Coming into the Market wilbe a greate dammage unto the Country for it wil weaken the hands of the country shoomakers from using their trade, or occasion them to Remove to boston which wilbe hurtful to other towns" {5:249-50}.

As Dedham grew, the people "feeling straightened at their doores by other towns and rocky lands, asked for a parcell of upland and meadow." This was granted in 1649, to be a distinct town of Medfield, but within the Dedham tract. The new proprietors signed an agreement in 1650, and here is found what appears to be John Frary's signature {7:38} & {3 v13:346}. John was one of the five men who laid out the grants. The number of acres for each was determined by the size of the family and the value of its livestock; those with the most property received the largest grants {12:68-69}.

John Frary was rated second in wealth, worth 316 pounds, when he settled in the middle of Medfield by 1652, having received a 12-acre grant with additional farm land on Stop River. His grant abutted "upon the highway toward the southeast" where now the Common around the Meeting House and the pond on Frairy Street are located. The houselot was along Frairy Street to Dale. Following an active life, including several terms on Medfield's board of selectmen {13 v1:374}, John died in 1675, and many years later his son, Theophilus, gave the house, land and orchard to the town and church. The house was rented for a while before being torn down for the value of the brick and clay, which were sold to pay to fence the land. His burial place is not known; no marker or cemetery record has been found in either Medfield or Dedham. Today's Frairy Street behind Town Hall is his memorial {6}, {7}, {10:543-50} & {11 v2: 201}.

John's will, as copied into the Suffolk Co. record book {8}, may have a word missing here and there but it is typical of colonial times and is presented here in its entirety to provide insight into the man and his life:

> In the yeare of our Lord, one thousand Six hundred Seaventy & five 11:4:75, I John Fraire of Medfield, in the County of Suffolke in New England, being by the good hand of god's providence preserved unto old age, and Being thereby, and the infirmityes thereupon attending, put in minde of my Mortallitie and Summoned eare Long to appeare before my god and Saviour Jesus Christ to give an account of all my

The inventory of John Frary's estate shows a surprisingly high standard of living and is strong evidence that he was a man of unusual ability. It is not difficult to conjure up visions of the rooms in his house, completely furnished with the items listed here. John's date of death, written at the head of the inventory several weeks after the event, disagrees with the town record and is probably incorrect. Also given are the date the inventory was taken, 30th day, 5th month (July on Old Style calendar), 1675, and the date it was presented to probate court, August 2, 1675.

The seventeenth century pound was worth much more than the modern pound, but a current dollar equivalent is difficult to estimate because of changes in relative values for various categories of property. Regardless, the total estate value of over 326 pounds was very substantial in its day.

Lt Theofilus Fraire appeared in Court this 2 of August 1675 and made Oath tht this is a Just and tru inventory of the estate of his Late father to the Best of his knowledge and tht when he knows more he will discover the same, this done as Attests.

Freegrace Bendall, Recorder

Widow Prudence Frary moved to Boston, making her home with her son, Theophilus, for her remaining years. She was fortunate to leave Medfield at that time, because the following February, during King Philip's War, Indians raided the town, burned 32 houses and other buildings, and killed 17 persons. Half the homes escaped damage, among them the Frary home.

John and Prudence are known to have had at least nine children, with the christenings of five found in the parish register of St. Clement's Church, in Norwich, co. Norfolk, England {1}. Samson was very likely the fifth or sixth, and tradition says he was brought from England. Records from Dedham, MA {3 v4:359} & {9}, list the birth of three more:

Lieut. THEOPHILUS[2] FRARY John[1]
bp. May 15, 1629, St. Clement's Parish, Norwich, co. Norfolk, England {1}; d. Oct. 17, 1700, Boston, MA. He m. June 4, 1653, at Boston, Hannah Eliot; bp. Jan. 29, 1636/7 {11 v2:109}, Boston; dau. of Elder Jacob and Margery Eliot {3 v30:206 and v33:63}, and niece of the Apostle to the Indians, the Rev. John Eliot {3 v10:224}. For her mother's will, see {3 v10:362}. He m/2 June 12, 1690, Boston, Mary (Allen) Greenwood, dau. of Samuel and Ann Allen. Her first husband, Nathaniel Greenwood, was also a native of Norwich {11 v2:311}.

Theophilus was admitted an inhabitant of Boston, Feb. 23, 1656/7. At least one deed calls him a cordwainer, or leatherworker {11 v2:201}. Always prominent in civil {3 v16:87}, military {17:206-7} & {18:91,92,473}, and church affairs, he was surveyor 1659-60; selectman 1679-87 and again in 1689; and Deputy to the General Court beginning in 1689 {17}. He was a founder of the Third (Old South) Church of Boston, 1669, and was elected deacon in 1685. He held strong objections to Anglican ceremony, which apparently led him to interrupt the funeral of Edward Lillie, the father-in-law of his daughter, Mehitable. For this act he was severely fined and placed under bonds {17} & {14 v2:178}.

He was a member of the noted Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, 1666 {17}; was commissioned lieutenant of the Foot Company, 1675; and was its acting Captain in 1683. During King Philip's War, he was Commissary of the Colonial Army {18:92} & {3 v37:366}. His will, written Sep. 11, 1697, and probated Oct. 31, 1700 {8}, named his second wife, Mary; his three daughters, Hannah Belcher, Abigail Arnold and Mehitable Lillie; and his brothers, Samson and Eleazer. A lot at Orange Street and Frary Lane was known as Frary's Corner {14 v2:178}.

[1] Dedham records for 1652 show the deaths of Samuel and Eleazer Frary, the latter name probably an error in place of Isaac, of whom no more is heard. However, Eleazer married 14 years later.

All his children were by his first wife, the first two born at Dedham {9} and the others at Boston {3 v10:70,221; v15:349; v16:47; v18:170}:

It was at Edward Lillie's funeral that Mehitable's father, Theophilus, disrupted the service (see p. 12). Although trained as a cooper (barrelmaker), Samuel soon became a merchant and by the age of 20 was engaged in commerce with the West Indies. In his later years he spent much time out of the country. Tradition says they had 11 children, most of them baptized at the Second Church, Boston {96:308-9}. A grandson was a prominent loyalist {11 v3:91} & {14 v2:180}.

bp. Dec. 18, 1631, St. Clement's Parish, Norwich, co. Norfolk, England {1}; d. March 28, 1670, Medfield, MA (VR). He m. Dec. 25, 1656, Medfield (VR), Elizabeth (_____) Harding, widow of Abraham Harding {3 v13:217}. Her four Harding children were brought up by John Frary {16 v34:208-9} & {3 v16:160}. She m. next, ab. 1675, Thomas Dyer of Weymouth {21 v12:388}, and d. by Jan., 1679/80, when her will was probated {3 v46:see index}.

John moved to Medfield with his parents; took the freeman's oath there May 14, 1656 {3 v3:194; v13:346} & {14}; bought 6.5 acres of meadow at Pine Valley; signed the Medfield Memorial; was allotted 177 acres in Medfield New Grant, 1659; served as Selectman in 1668 and 1669; and died the following year after making his will as John Frairy, Jr., of Medfield. His principal heirs, wife Elizabeth and his "own two daughters," shared equally. Two of his stepchildren, Abraham Harding and Mary Harding, received legacies, and a third, John Harding, was given a piece of land. As executors, he named his wife, his brother, Theophilus[2], and Thomas Thurston {8} & {3 v48:459}. Proof of daughters' marriages and additional information on Frary and Harding probate affairs, extending into 1680, can be found in {3 v9:35, v16:160, v48:459} and {21 v12:388}. ## Chapter III--SAMSON FRARY AND HIS DESCENDANTS

#S1
b. ab. 1634-37, prob. in England; d. Feb. 29, 1703/4, Deerfield, MA. He m. Medfield, MA, June 14, 1660 (VR), Mary Daniel; b. Cambridge or Watertown, MA, Sep. 2, 1642; d. March 1703/4; dau. of Robert and Elizabeth (Morse) Daniel. For her English ancestry, see {3 v88:383 (Daniel), v83:284 (Morse)}.

About 1666, Samson took his wife and two small daughters on the perilous journey through the wilderness from Medfield to Hatfield, which was then part of Hadley, on the Connecticut River, where they were to live for a while, near his brother, Eleazer. That year Dedham townsmen bought from the Indians an 8000-acre tract, 12 miles north of Hatfield, in the fertile Pocumtuck River valley, and Samson soon joined them as a proprietor of the new town of Deerfield. In 1670, when the Dedham committee and their "artiste" arrived to "laye out the lotts," they found fields being plowed by an impatient settler, Samuel Hinsdale, and a cellar built by Samson Frary, in the north end.

In 1673, the settlement, still known by its Indian name, Pocumtuck, and governed by Dedham townsmen, petitioned for a new status, and the reply from the General Court at Boston to "the inhabitants of Paucumptucke, Samuel Hinsdale, Samson Frary, & c." granted them "the liberty of a touneship" {15 v1:13}. A short period of peace with the Indians ended when Philip, son of Massasoit, fomented unrest which grew into warfare in 1675-6 {18:137}, and the Deerfield people were forced to retreat to Hatfield and Hadley, leaving their homes to be sacked and burned.

Samson and his family remained at Hatfield several years but never lost hope of returning to their land for a new start. It was during this period that Samson became a freeman at Hatfield, Feb. 8, 1677/8 {3 v4:26}. By 1680, while resettlement plans were taking shape, the General Court urged a more compact form of settlement "for security against enemyes & more comfort for Christian communion . . . and education of children in schools . . ." {15 v1:59}. It was probably for this reason that Samson rebuilt near the center of the village about 1683, rather than on his original land. He built on a lot belonging to Peter Woodward of Dedham, and it was not until 1719 that Samson's son, #S6 Nathaniel[3], received a quitclaim deed to the lot.

There they lived for 20 years, always fearing the sporadic raids by Indians who, at times, were encouraged by the French. Finally, on Feb. 29, 1703/4, before daybreak, combined French and Indian forces made a savage attack on the sleeping Deerfield settlers. They killed or captured those they could and burned many homes and barns {3 v9:161}. Samson and his young granddaughter, Mercy Root, were killed and his wife, Mary, was captured. "Lacking vigor to endure," she was killed by her Indian master on the journey to Canada "for their manner was if any loitered to kill them," according to a redeemed captive a few years later. A contemporary "table of losses" for the Deerfield Massacre states for Frary: "Captured: wife; Slain: himself, 2 children; Alive: 2 children. Estate Lost: 250 house, Barn burnt, Estate in it." The number of children is probably an error and should be 1. The estate loss of 250 Massachusetts pounds (compare to John[1]'s estate of 326 pounds) was equal to that of two other families. Two others exceeded his loss at 300 pounds, and all other losses were far less. Son Nathaniel[3] is not accounted for among either casualties or defenders. Possibly he had escaped to Hatfield to get help or was away from Deerfield on an errand. See {4 v5}, {12:75-78}, {15 v1:10,12,13,19,87}, {22}, and {35:110-12}. Also, Old Deerfield and its history, including the massacre, are the subjects of an illustrated article in the June, 1969, issue of The National Geographic Magazine.

Many have believed sincerely that the Frary loss was mainly the barn and estate, that the damaged house was repaired and that it still stands more than two centuries later. However, recent research by its present owner, Historic Deerfield, Inc., has convinced them that the house was "not constructed before 1719, when Nathaniel Frary acquired the property" {33}. For further discussion of this research, see #S6 NATHANIEL[3] FRARY below.

The will of Samson Frary, written Feb. 2, 1702/3, left to his wife, Mary, "the benefit of my whole estate during the term of her natural life for her comfortable subsistence in the world"; to son, Nathaniel, "(whom I make my sole heir and executor) the whole of my estate after mine and my wife Mary's decease." Nathaniel was to pay legacies to daughter, Mary Root, and to the five children of Samson's deceased daughter, Mehitable Root. Witnesses were Eleazer Frary and Thomas French {25 v3:128}.

The children of Samson and Mary (Daniel) Frary were {22 v1:see index, v2:165-7}, {10:545} & {41 Appendix:54}:

#S6
NATHANIEL[3] FRARY Samson[2] John[1]
b. Nov. 29, 1675, Hatfield, MA {29}; d. Apr. 30, 1727, Deerfield, MA (VR). He m. at Deerfield Jan. 26, 1715/6, Mehitable Dickinson; b. June 11, 1696, Wethersfield, CT; dau. of Obadiah and Mehitable (Hinsdale) Dickinson {19:287}. Nathaniel, with others, received waterpower and mill rights on what may be Sawmill River, and possibly his home was there near Sunderland {31:154}. Later he lived near the center of Deerfield where his father had built a house on Peter Woodward's lot. After that house probably burned in the Deerfield massacre, the use and ownership of this lot is not clear until Nathaniel received a quitclaim deed on Dec. 10, 1719 {32 v4:C565}, and erected a home as listed in his inventory of 1727. His heirs held title until July, 1752, when the land and buildings were sold. Apparently his widow, Mehitable, moved then to Northampton with her son, Obadiah. {22 v2:165}, {25 v4:167, 172}, {35:112-3} & {109:115-6}

Mr. J. R. Garrison of Historic Deerfield, Inc., has recently conducted research on Nathaniel's house (Frary House, Deerfield) and states that the older north wing has some details of architecture and construction which are characteristic of the mid-1700's. He says that Salah Barnard, the new owner, in 1763 commenced considerable building activity. It continued into 1766, according to Barnard's account books, and he may have gutted the building prior to remodeling it. The south wing was built in 1795; and, a year later, when a tavern license was granted, it is believed that the ballroom was built. Therefore, tradition to the contrary, it would appear that the house never served as a Revolutionary War tavern. From 1795 until 1860, the two wings were sold separately, but since then they have been sold as a single unit.

Twice more the house has received extensive work. In 1890, Miss C. Alice Baker, great-granddaughter of #S19 Lucy (Frary) Stebbins, saved it from destruction and remodeled it for greater comfort. Her will left it to the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association. In the 1950's, Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Flynt's Heritage Foundation (now Historic Deerfield, Inc.) remodeled the house to restore its authenticity. Now, in 1980, Frary House is owned by Historic Deerfield, Inc., and is open to the public. {33} & {34}

Nathaniel and Mehitable had four children recorded at Deerfield:

S7 +Obadiah[4] b. May 20, 1717, Deerfield.
S8 +Nathan b. Apr. 24, 1719, Deerfield.
S9 Eunice b. Nov. 30, 1721, Deerfield; d. ae 92, Oct. 28, 1813. She m. at Deerfield, May 26, 1743, Aaron Field; b. After living a short time at Northampton, Obadiah became an early settler at Southampton, where he had a sawmill on the Manhan River. Some of its remains are still seen near Smith's Bridge. He was a notable cabinetmaker and some of his fine pieces of furniture are owned by descendants. A beautiful highboy, made for his wife, Eunice, now stands in the Frary House in Deerfield. Also, according to Judd {41:380}, "This man made some good brass clocks for families and a few for meeting houses, between 1745 and 1775." In 1979, an estate inventory in CT included a clock marked "O. FRARY, Southampton," appraised at $18,000 {336}.

Obadiah was active in civic affairs, fulfilling duties as constable, hog reeve, deer reeve, and church committeeman. He was town moderator, 1778, and, in 1782, elected to the important tasks of the town's Committees of Correspondence, Safety and Inspection. It was the duty of these committees, during the Revolutionary War, to coordinate their war-related activities with those of the other towns. Too old to be a soldier, he rendered these civic services for which he is honored by DAR and SAR. He left to his dau., Eunice Frary, $2 plus what she received at marriage; to dau., Mary Coleman, $2 plus household furniture given to her at marriage and after she lost hers by fire; to grandson Zenas Frary $15.67 to be paid in neat cattle; and to son Nathaniel Frary, all real and personal property not otherwise disposed of. The Southampton ch. rec. says, "Dorris Edwards Frarey, son of Obadiah"; his brother Noah had a grandchild Dorus; and a Dorus Frary was remembered by townsmen as told by Gridley in his Astounding Facts from the Spirit World, Witnessed at the House of J. A. Gridley, Southampton, Mass. as follows: "Numerous messages of a high order, yet of a private character, have been given and sent to distant friends from the beginning. At one time the following was partly written, and partly spelled by the alphabet, the medium not being asleep. It referred to an individual of whom I had never heard, that I can recollect, though some of the circle had known him when a lad. 'DORUS R. FRARY left Springfield, Mass., 13 years ago, and went to sea. He was murdered in Hudersfield, England, in 1844. A part of my murderers were my shipmates, and a part were not. I was murdered partly for my money, and partly from revenge. I was robbed of between $160 and $170 in money--my throat was cut--my body stripped of its clothing, dragged to a distance and buried in a vault.' We learn from his friends that he left Springfield at the time stated and that they had heard nothing from him since 1843." {140:66} See also #S80, Nathan L. Frary.

He m/2 Mary L. Beach, July 14, 1842, Bristol, CT {70} (VR); d. July 9, 1870, {68}, ae 45. The 1850 census at Bristol shows him as a cabinet maker. Very soon they removed to Thomaston where he remained until his last years when he was at Winchester with his son, and it was there that he drew his will in 1887, leaving everything to his daughter-in-law {69, #748}. His estate was owed $7206 by son, Raymond, and it was responsible to a bank for another $1725 on Raymond's note. It appears that debts of that size would be for a business of Raymond's, and that his father left nothing to him for that reason. Raymond's bankruptcy followed soon, Jan. 21, 1888 {69}. None of this family has been located in the 1900 census, and whether Raymond had children is not known. Three children:

S118 Raymond S.[8] b. Nov. 14, 1845, Bristol; d. June 1, 1923, Winchester, CT. He m. L. Jennie Gilbert; b. Aug. 1850, (1856?); d. Nov. 23, 1924. Resided Thomaston, Danbury (1868), Winchester {113} & {68}.

DAVID[7] FRARY Justus[6] Nathaniel[5] Obadiah[4] Nathaniel[3] Samson[2] John[1] bp. May 18, 1828, Southampton, MA, Cong. Ch. {40}; d. Feb. 11, 1875, Multnomah Co., Oregon, in Portland area. He m. by 1858 Caroline Collier, b. ab. 1833, NY; dau. of John Collier; died by 1875. At Southampton, David left behind two traditions, first that he went to sea; second, that he went to Canada to work as a carpenter. He may have done both, as he had a child born in Virginia, where there are many seaports, and he owned a collection of carpenter's tools as shown by his inventory. He is first located as David Tracy, 1870 census, Harter (p.o., Flora) Clay Co., IL, farmer, with wife, Caroline, dau., Mary, b. VA, his father-in-law, and sister-in-law Mary Ann Collier. Besides his tools and personal property, he left real estate near Flora, IL. Mary Ann Collier was guardian, and later, when she married, her husband John Honeyman was appointed {138} & {139}. Two children (not followed):

The Sunderland history says Francis served on the Lyceum Club committee, was member of a vocal quartet, and took an active part in the town affairs of Leverett. A contemporary clergyman, the Rev. David Eastman, said, "Dea. Francis Frary was one of the best men I have ever known among any people. He loved the church, and was an efficient officer in it about 18 years; loved the Sabbath school; loved his minister; and was as true to their interests and to everything good as the needle to the pole." {31:172,226} & {131 v1:252} Four children, all born at Leverett:

Jan. 23, 1873, Oberlin, OH; d. Apr. 30, 1932, Eustis, FL; dau. of Charles and Henrietta (Gross) Call. Grace (Call) Frary's sister Flora, and husband Elias Disney, of Acron, FL, were parents of the famous Walt Disney {26:393}.

Because William's mother had died at his birth, he was raised by his aunt, #S44 Delania (Frary) Nash, at South Hadley, MA, until his father remarried. About 1880 he made a hunting trip to Florida, loved the country, homesteaded 100 acres, and set out an orange grove in Acron, now called Paisley, Lake County. A forest fire destroyed it, and he replanted only to have it freeze in the severe 1890 winter which wiped out all citrus in the state. Six children:

OSSIAN DANFORTH[8] FRARY Noble D.[7] Zenas[6] Obadiah[5] Obadiah[4] Nathaniel[3] Samson[2] John[1]

b. Jan. 26, 1850, Springfield, MA; d. May 7, 1941, Miami, FL. He m. Dec. 25, 1872, Melissa Read; b. Dec. 14, 1853; d. Feb. 26, 1923, Chicago, IL. Ossian was a student at Bryant & Stratton Business College at Chicago while his family lived there and was listed in city directories of 1868 thru 1870 as a clerk for Walter A. Wood Co., dealers in agricultural implements, which later became International Harvester Co. His father also worked for the company, but the 1871 directory lists neither and family tradition says Ossian returned to Chicago Oct. 8, 1871, the day of the "great fire." He escaped injury but lost all his possessions. He again worked for W. A. Wood Co., progressively as shipping clerk, salesman, and district manager, according to directories which list him thru 1904, the last one checked. In 1874 and '75 he lived at River Forest; in 1880 at Englewood. In 1893 his work took him to Portland, OR, for a short time, and a few years later to Australia to establish new offices for the company. He retired after 50 years with them. Four children, b. LUCIUS N.[8] FRARY Noah[7] Obadiah[6] Nathaniel[5] Obadiah[4] Nathaniel[3] Samson[2] John[1]

b. Dec. 1, 1830, prob. Easthampton, MA; d. Feb. 20, 1895, LaPorte, LaPorte Co., IN (obit, Easthampton News); m/1 Jane Allen; m/2 Susan Parsons; m/3 Charlotte McKinney (all family notes). The 1900 census, LaPorte, shows Charlota, wid., b. Nov. 1834, Can.; mother of four, two living. His obituary, first pub. at LaPorte, said he moved there 1857; married there; "educated his children in this city"; was a prominent Odd Fellow; was a Presbyterian; and, as a mason by trade, had superintended the construction of many buildings in his adopted city {142}. The 1860 census records Lucius "Farvee"; that of 1870 calls him a brick mason, with Charlotte, b. Nova Scotia. The census reports three children in 1860 and two more, 1870; 1880 not checked. In 1850 Lucius had worked and boarded at Easthampton but if he was father, rather than stepfather, of Dora, he probably soon went to Canada, and returned by 1856. Five children:

S139 Dora V.[9] b. ab. 1855, Can.
S140 Margaret A. b. Jan. 25, 1857, recorded at Southampton, MA, with no name or sex: "child of Lucius"; this girl ae 3 in 1860; 13 in 1870, b. at "Ind." both censues say, prob. wrong.

#S80
NATHAN L.[8] FRARY Brother of #S79 Lucius
b. May 9, 1832, prob. Easthampton, MA (or Oswego, NY?) The Southampton birth record for his son, Clayton, 1868, says "father b. Oswego, NY.". He m. by 1858 Sarah Veile or Vaile (family tradition); b. Thomson, NY (says son's Southampton record, 1868). He d. ab. 1895, CA, and Sarah d. 1903 or later, CA.

Nathan's experiences as a spiritualist medium, about 1852, are colorfully described in Astounding Facts from the Spirit World, Witnessed at the House of J. A. Gridley, Southampton, Mass. {140}. (See #S55 Dorus Edwards.) At the time, Nathan was a paid attendant of Gridley's ill son. He enlisted for the Civil War at Southampton, Nov. 20, 1861, in B Co., 31st Regt., Mass. Vol. Inf., as a private, with brother, Lewis. During training, he slipped and fell on a tent peg, which disabled him for years. After his recuperation at home, he was reassigned to light hospital duties and discharged Oct. 15, 1866, for medical reasons. His military pension file at the National Archives provided most of this information. His name was never found in census records.

Nathan was 5'8", dark complexioned, had black hair and blue eyes. He had had another accident, during his teens, while chopping bean poles with a small ax. A neighborhood boy jumped on his back to surprise him, causing the ax to fall and amputate Nathan's left index finger. He was a mason by trade. Pension papers record that after the Civil War he lived in MA, IN, KS and MO. By 1887, he was in Los Angeles, CA, accompanied by his family. However, in 1892, he was in Red Bluff, Tehama Co., CA, 600 miles north of Los Angeles, and the 1892 Los Angeles directory lists "Mrs. Sara Frary, widow." They may have been divorced or perhaps she did not know his whereabouts and assumed his death. His pension file contains an 1892 letter from neighbors in Tehama Co., which states: "Nathan L. Frary, by reason of old age and physical infirmities, is unable to perform physical labor, is destitute; has no property or income except his $8 a month pension." Nathan returned to Los Angeles and lived with son, Henry (1894-5 directories). His death date is unkown, but his pension was dropped Dec. 4, 1895. He is buried in Evergreen Cemetery, Los Angeles, with an undated military marker. The Los Angeles directory for 1903 (and 1905?) lists Mrs. Sarah S. Frary, wid. of Nathan L. Frary. Four children:

S144 +Henry Eugene[9] b. Sep. 26, 1858, Southampton, MA (town record).
S145 Etta b. Sep. 26, 1858 (twin); husband's name unk., no ch.
S146 +Frederick Newton b. Aug. 29, 1860 (desc. info. says Northampton).

Her first husband was Thomas Hudson Gladden by whom she had a daughter; they were divorced.

Lewis enrolled Oct. 21, 1861, at Southampton in Civil War, Co. B, 31st Reg. MA, and 6th MA Cavalry; served as Corporal and Sergeant; mustered out, 1864. After receiving a gunshot wound at the battle in Yellow Bayou, LA, the resulting kidney damage and curvature of his spine entitled him to a pension and his file contains interesting information. He was 5'10" tall, dark complexioned, had black hair, blue eyes. Following the war, he lived four years at Chesterfield, then Southampton, and spent his last days with his dau. in Easthampton. When completing a Pension Bureau questionnaire in 1915, he said "My wife and I lived together 43 or 44 years . . . She was sick 2 1/2 years and I had the whole care of her; for 3 weeks at a time didn't take my clothes off and go to bed." He signed it, "A Sad and lonely Old Vet.". In 1918, while living with his dau., he requested an increase in pension and told the agent, "If I were able to, I'd go into camp and be a drilling sergeant." Lewis' recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was always an annual highlight of the town's Memorial Day celebration. Two children:

Ensign ELEAZER[2] FRARY John[1]
b. Feb. 14, 1639/40, Dedham, MA (Town Records, using Old Style calendar, say 14th day of 12 mo. 1639) {3 v4:359}; d. at Hatfield, MA, Dec. 19, 1709 {29}. He m. at Hadley, MA, Jan. 28, 1665/6 (VR), Mary Graves {31:349}; b. Hartford, CT, July 5, 1647; d. between 1710 and 1728; dau. of Isaac and Mary (Church) Graves. {10:577-9}, {41 Appendix:54,59} & {112 v1:10}

Town histories for Hadley {41:31,80,256}, Hatfield {77} and Whately {73} take frequent notice of Eleazer, who migrated as a young man to Hadley, a town being settled on both sides of the Connecticut River, eight miles above Springfield. He received a four-acre lot on the west side of the river and was one of the 25 settlers there who signed a document, dated May 3, 1667, petitioning the Governor and General Court of Massachusetts Bay for a bridge. Church attendance was compulsory and crossing the river was sometimes hazardous, especially during spring thaws. Requests for help were denied until the winter of 1669-70, when they were able to obtain their own minister and were then set off from Hadley in 1669 as the Town of Hatfield.

There was peaceful coexistence with the Indians at this time, but tensions grew and resulted in King Philip's War (1675-76), which created great fear and danger. Individuals and small groups who ventured outside Hatfield's stockade sometimes failed to return, but the town's well planned defense withstood a major attack by more than 700 Indians.

Eleazer Frary signed the oath of allegiance Feb. 8, 1677/8, at Hatfield {3 v4:25}. On May 19, 1680, he was listed with Northampton men as a freeman {3 v3:245}, a title bestowed upon those who were landowners in good standing with their churches and communities. He was their representative for several terms at the General Court at Boston. Also, in 1693, the presence in Hatfield of bands of marauding Indians prompted the town to send Eleazer to the General Court to urge restrictions on the privileges of the Indians. At various times he served in other capacities such as ensign of the militia, surveyor of highways, sheepmaster, member of a petit jury on an important case, assessor, and in 1699 member of a committee to build a new meetinghouse {41:256} & {77:120}.

He followed his father's trade as a cordwainer or bootmaker and no doubt also farmed. His first land grant of four acres was only half the size the older family men received, but he shared in the 1684 distribution of Common Lands, and again, in 1700, 13-acre land grants at Hopewell Swamp, north of Hatfield (now Whately), went to Ens. Eleazer Frary and "Ens. Frary" {77:133}, probably his son, Samuel {10:546-7}. See also {73:index} & {77:index}.

As Eleazer Frary, cordwainer of Hatfield, Hampshire Co., MA, he drew his will the 17th Day of December, 1709, leaving one third of his personal estate to his wife, Mary, and also, for her lifetime use, one third of: his pasture, houselot and buildings thereon, and other land and tenements. The remainder of his estate, both personal and real, he left to "my dear children," Samuel, Eleazer, Prudence Cole, Hannah Dickinson, Isaac and Jonathan, with a double share to Samuel as eldest son, and equal shares to the others "or to such as shall legally represent them." Jonathan's share was to include the other two thirds of the houselot and buildings and his mother's third of that property after her death. Eleazer's land, known as Damm Pasture, went one third each to sons Eleazer and Isaac, with Jonathan to get his mother's third. To his wife's sister, whom he called "my cousin Hannah Sacket," he left "a good cow or three pounds in mony."

His will directed that ". . . if any one of my children . . . shall trouble their Brethren in lawsuits about my estate . . . he shall have no part of my estate . . ." He appointed sons Eleazer, Isaac and Jonathan as executors. Witnesses Daniel White, Sr.; Thomas Hastings, Sr.; and Thomas Hastings, Jr., presented the will for probate on 3 Jan. 1709/10. {25 v3:212}

Lieut. SAMUEL[3] FRARY Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. April 15, 1674, Hatfield, MA {29}; d. Middletown (Cromwell section), CT, Aug. 1, 1762, in his 89th yr. (g.s. at the old yard, Cromwell {68}). He m/1 ab. 1696, Sarah Boardman; b. Wethersfield, CT, ab. 1673; d. at Cromwell March 1, 1732/3, in 61st yr. (g.s. {68}); dau. of Isaac and Abiah (Kimberly) Boardman {58:216-7}. He m/2 at Middletown on Jan. 22, 1733/4, Mary (Todd) Heaton; b. Feb. 12, 1674/5, New Haven, CT; dau. of Samuel and Mary (Bradley) Todd, and widow of Nathaniel Heaton {114 v8:1818}. He m/3 after 1742 Esther (Moss)(Maltby) Todd; b. Wallingford, CT, Jan. 5, 1678/9; dau. of John and Martha (Lathrop) Moss; wid. of Daniel Maltby of Branford and of Samuel Todd of New Haven {114 v5:1220}. He m/4 at Cromwell, Nov. 1, 1753, Abigail (Bidwell) Sumner; b. Middletown ab. 1684; d. May 13, 1772 {68}, Middletown, and as "Widow Freary" was buried May 14, 1772, at Indian Hill Cemetery {113}; dau. of Samuel and Elizabeth (Stow) Bidwell, and widow of Lieut. Hezekiah Sumner {69:1375}. She and Samuel Frary probably had a prenuptial agreement, because she was not mentioned in his will {3 v9:304}.

After his first marriage, Samuel and Sarah probably lived at Hatfield, where their children's births are recorded. He was of Wethersfield, CT, in 1709, when he bought a home in the northern part of Middletown (now Cromwell), where he lived for his remaining 53 years. Although his only son survived him less than five years and his grandsons left Middletown before the Revolutionary War, local historians still refer to the restored and occupied home as the "Frary mansion," and to the remains of buildings between the house and river bank as "the Frary warehouses" (1976). The purpose of the "warehouses" is not known to the authors, but his inventory showed farming tools, and his crops may have been shipped on the river. Perhaps the crops of his neighbors were also gathered there for shipment. He is said to have left his son his farrier's (horseshoeing) tools, but this may not have been his trade. He was a member of the north company of the Middletown militia; was appointed Ensign in May, 1719; and Lieutenant in May, 1725.

Samuel drew his will April 11, 1761, giving to his only son, Joseph; all his Middletown lands; all his husbandry and turning tools and utensils; and his "Negro woman named Pegg" with her daughters, Rhoda and Tammy. To his daughter, Sarah Hale, he gave his entire personal estate. His son, Joseph, was executor, and witnesses were Edward Eells, Nathaniel Chauncey, and Ebenezer Backus. His will was proved Sep. 13, 1762, the inventory being taken three days later. The real estate included a warehouse on 2.75 acres (110 pounds); 28 acres at the plains (56 pounds); 3.75 acres at Sidon Hill; 3 acres at "Goosedelight"; and 2 acres of "boge-meadow land" {69:1377}. He also had a Bible and other religious books and was a member of the First Congregational Church, having been admitted to communion Jan. 1, 1743/4, at Cromwell (see Connecticut State Library church records {10:547-8} & {19 v2:110ff.}). The Hatfield, MA, town clerk recorded two births to Samuel and Sarah Frary.

E9 Sarah[4] b. Sep. 10, 1697; d. Glastonbury, CT, Oct. 20, 1770. She m. ab. 1724, Timothy Hale; b. 1692, Glastonbury, CT, d. Aug. 9, 1784, ae 92, at Glastonbury; son of Thomas and Naomi (Kilbourn) Hale {3 v61:180}, {10:45} & {19:407}. Five children, born Glastonbury:

ISAAC[3] FRARY brother of #E3 Samuel
b. March 2, 1685/6, Hatfield, MA; d. at Hatfield ab. 1760. He m. Dec. 8, 1715, recorded at Hatfield, Lydia Parsons, b. May 29, 1695, Northampton; d. at Hatfield June 15, 1773 {29}; dau. of Jonathan and Mary (Clark) Parsons. In his will, dated June 26, 1759, and probated April 8, 1760, he left to his four sons, Eleazer, Phineas, Moses and Elisha, equal shares of some Hatfield land; other Hatfield land was to be divided among all except Moses. Two other pieces of land, including some at Lower Ashuelot, NH, went to Elisha, who was to maintain his parents during their lifetimes {41 Appendix:54}; {73:466} & {75:230}.

To daughters Lydia and Hannah he gave "the household goods which I set them off with at the time of marriage" plus six shillings each; and to Jonathan Morton, widower of daughter Mary who had died childless, he gave much of the household goods he had set off to Mary. To daughter Martha he willed twenty pounds at the time of marriage. The executors were wife Lydia and son Elisha; and witnesses were Charles Phelps, Moses Billing, Joseph Holmes and Jeremiah Waite.

Isaac's land records have not been searched to determine whether he ever resided elsewhere, but the local histories take little notice of him, and only two children's births are recorded at Hatfield. Names of 8 children are taken from his will:

E11 +Eleazer b. Dec. 19, 1716.

#E8
JONATHAN[3] FRARY Brother of #E3 Samuel
b. Nov. 13, 1689, Hatfield, MA; d. at Hatfield May 18, 1728 {29}. He m. May 23, 1719 (or July 23?) Hatfield, MA {29}, Mary Graves, his first cousin; born Nov. 9, 1695, Hatfield; dau. of John and Sarah (Banks) Graves. (The Graves-Banks marriage is in Chelmsford, MA {29}, {31:350}, {41 Appendix:54} & {112:14}.) Mary m/2 Oct. 30, 1729 {29}, Eliakim King of Northampton, by whom she had a dau.; they were early settlers at Ashuelot, NH (later it was Swanzey). Mr. King d. May 18, 1756, and Mary d. JOSEPH[4] FRARY Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]

Mar. 28, 1699, Middletown; d. after 1765; dau. of Jacob and Deborah (Shepard) White {3 v32:320} & {156:39}.

One record at Middletown mentioned land "surveyed by Joseph Frary, 1728," but his occupation is not known. The Hale-House genealogy by D. L. Jacobus, 1952, cites a White family deed which proves Hannah's identity.

The births of all children but the first were recorded at Middletown, and baptisms at the First Congregational Church at Cromwell (Conn. State Library records). The date is missing but no doubt it was between Aug. 1742 and Aug. 1744 that the 5 living children, Joseph to Samuel, were baptized together, and Sarah was baptized alone Aug. 19, 1744. Hannah was also baptized at the Portland Cong. Church, Jan. 15, 1737/8.

Joseph's will was made Oct. 29, 1765; proved June 10, 1767. He named his wife Hannah; his unmarried daughters, Hannah and Sarah; and sons Joseph, Jonathan and Samuel. Executor was son Joseph; witnesses: Edward Eells, Nathaniel Chauncey, and Joseph Smith. His inventory included several Negroes {69 Middletown #1376}, {59:495} & {155:78}. The following account probably refers to Eleazer, with an error in name: "Daniel Frairey enlisted in Guilford Co., 8 Sep. 1755; reported dead or captivated 16 Nov. 1755" {10:549}.
E24 +Jonathan b. Jan. 26, 1735/6.

Several references {73:597} & {76:330} confuse this John and Mary Wait with John Wait, b. 1749 Hatfield, who m. 1770 Mary Smith of Whately and raised a large family in Williamsburg. The Williamsburg couple recorded with the clerk of that town their own birthdates {338:125}.

The 1790 census, taken at Whately, shows Mary's brother, Lt. Eleazer Frary, Jr., and John Wait listed consecutively and enclosed with a bracket, indicating they shared the same house. After the birth of 11 children, the Waits moved to Preston, NY, a town formed in 1806 from Norwich, Co. of Chenango. John Wait was a Revolutionary soldier and an active energetic man. PHINEAS[4] FRARY Brother of #E11 Eleazer
b. April 20, 1718, Hatfield, MA; d. April 10, 1782, Hatfield, MA {29}. He m. prob. at Sunderland, MA, May 25, 1749, Mary Billings; b. Mar. 16, 1728; d. Conway, MA, Dec. 16, 1796; dau. of Ebenezer and Editha (Gunn) Billings of Sunderland {31:271}. Wid. Mary Frary m/2 Nov. 17, 1785, at Hatfield {29}, Lt. John Clary of Sunderland and moved to Conway.

There is reason to believe that Phineas spent little of his adult life in Hatfield, the town where his birth and death are recorded. Neither the town history by Wells {77} nor the vital records mention this family until 1770, when a daughter married. That his fellow townsmen regarded him as a trustworthy, capable citizen is evidenced by the fact that they appointed him to two responsible positions associated with the colonists' displeasure with British rule. Phineas Frary was appointed on Sep. 21, 1774, to Hatfield's first Committee of Correspondence, being one of nine men; and on Jan. 9, 1775, to the Committee of Inspection "agreeable to the Continental and Provincial Congress" {73:466} & {77:184}.

A Swanzey, NH, history lists Phineas Frazey [sic] and his first cousins, Jonathan and John Frary, sons of Jonathan, as grantees for formation of the town, July 2, 1753 {150:56}. This area had been called Ashuelot; his father had owned some land there; and Jonathan and John at times lived there. However, no further mention is made of Phineas. #E17
Lieut. ELISHA[4] FRARY Brother of #E11 Eleazer
b. Aug. 18, 1729, Hatfield, Hampshire Co., MA; d. July 8, 1801, Sharon, Schoharie Co., NY. He m. Apr. 8, 1761, at Springfield, MA, recorded also at Hatfield, Miriam Warner; b. Belchertown, MA, July 21, 1743; dau. of Jesse and Miriam (Smith) Warner {42:116}. They lived in the section of Hatfield which became Whately in 1771, first with his brother Moses, and in 1770 in the house he built on his own 65 acres. They removed to Sharon in 1798 where they appear to be the older couple living with son Justus during 1800 census. Miriam's deathdate is not known.

Elisha was a prominent citizen at Whately, serving in many capacities, first as a drummer in the French and Indian War; then as a private in the Rev. War; and he no doubt continued in the militia, as he was ever after called Lieutenant {43:22} & {115}. In 1773, he was a member of the Whately Committee of Correspondence which joined with the committees of the other towns to coordinate their response to the oppressive British rule. Elisha represented the Town of Whately at the Second Provincial Congress {74:40} and had two terms as town selectman, 1772 and 1780 {73:see index}, {75:232} & {76:148-9,156}.

Of twelve children, dates are not confirmed except for the baptisms of five in Whately {245}, but all were born at Hatfield and Whately:

E49 +Elisha[5] b. Jan. 22, 1762.
E50 +Isaac b. Aug. 22, 1763.
E51 +Elihu b. Jan. 7, 1766.

E54 +Justus b. Oct. 1771; bp. Jan. 15, 1772.
E55 Lydia b. Sep. 1773; bp. Oct. 9, 1773; d. Aug. 19, 1815, in 42nd yr. (g.s., Oak Corners, Phelps twp, NY). She m., prob. at Whately, her cousin, Justin Scott; b. Jan. 20, 1772, Williamsburg, MA; son of Capt. David and #E30 Esther (Frary) Scott {73:559}. With Lydia's brother, Justus Frary, they moved to Sharon, Schoharie Co., NY, where the 1800 census shows a family with a boy and three girls under age 10. The 1810 census shows him at Preston, Chenango Co., NY, called Justin Chat, enumerated next to Justus Frary. Family tradition gives him a second wife, Sally. (See #E59 Hannah below.) He is bur. at Orleans Cem., Phelps; "d. Feb. 8, 1827, ae 55." The names of only two children are learned:
a) Electa[6] Scott b. Jan. 9, 1801; m. Allan Porter 1819.
b) Polly Scott She m., 1827, DeWitt Clinton Warner; b. 1806. Their dau., Mary Jane Warner, m. cousin Marvin Warner, son of Houghton and #E201 Mary (Frary) Warner. Mary Jane's grmo. #E55 Lydia, and Marvin's grf., #E52 Festus were sister and brother.
E56 Philotheta b. Apr. 1775?, bp. Apr. 28, 1776. She m. William Taylor; b. 1771; d. 1819, Sharon Springs, Schoharie Co., NY. His parents may be Seth and Martha Taylor of Hardwick and Chesterfield, MA. A Taylor genealogy disagrees but seems less reliable. William was an early settler of Schoharie Co. and a colonel in the War of 1812, stationed at Plattsburgh, NY {111:360}, {309 v1:78} & {263:34}. Only one child is given:
a) Justus Frary[6] Taylor.
E57 Dickinson b. 1777; probably died young.
E58 +Jesse b. Sep. 1779; bp. May 21, 1780.
E59 Hannah b. 1782; bp. May 12, 1782. She m. her cousin, Charles Scott; b. Nov. 7, 1779, Williamsburg, MA; son of Capt. David and #E30 Esther (Frary) Scott {73:559}. He and brother, Justin, married sisters, and both are shown in the 1820 census at Phelps, Ontario Co., NY. However, Justin's wife, #E55 Lydia, had died in 1815. The 1820 census credits Justin with four sons and four daughters and Charles' family with a male and a female age 26-45; two males and a female 16-26; one female 10-16; one male and two females under 10. Only one child is identified:
a) Aurilla[6] Scott b. ab. 1818; d. Aug. 15, 1826, ae 8 yrs. and buried at Oak Corners Cem., Phelps, NY.
E60 Mary b. 1784.

plat plan shows his lot adjoining that of Eliakim King {150:46,56 as Frazey, 342}. During the subsequent Indian uprising, which ended 1753, they probably returned to Hatfield where births of their children are recorded {29}. On the list of Swanzey settlers, 1762-1777, he is not listed as is his brother, John, although he was a grantee of the town in 1753. A Morris family history {191:136} says, "A deed from Hezekiah May to Jonathan Frary, of Thetford, dated Sep. 9, 1783, recorded in Strafford (VT) is the earliest mention of the Frary name on record." No other adult Jonathan is known but this deed has not been examined, and nothing more is found on Jonathan or Eunice. Three children:

With brother, Jonathan, and cousin #E12, Phineas, John is recorded as a grantee of Swanzey, NH, in 1753, and as a settler sometime between 1762 and 1777. He probably moved to Strafford before 1775 {150:56 as Frazey, 342} & {191:136}. The first child is recorded at Newington, CT, and the next six at Swanzey in NH vital records {178}:

June 16, 1779, Shirley, MA; son of Abel and Joanna (Bartlett) Chase. Abel moved to Chesterfield, NH, 1787; disappears ab. 1800; perhaps going to Massena, St. Lawrence Co., NY {185:104,222}. This Sarah may be of the next generation; no record exists except the marriage record.

In 1818 his brother, Eleazer, for himself and other heirs, applied for a land warrant on the service of Benjamin "Frairy" and it was approved: Warrant #20,365 for land in Missouri. The other heirs are not named, and so far as can be learned none ever occupied the land, and no doubt they sold it {247}.

Major PHINEAS[5] FRARY Phineas[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. April 20, 1755, perhaps at Hatfield, MA; d. May 27, 1816, Whately {121}. He m. May 7, 1777, Whately?, Rhoda Morton; b. Aug. 29, 1756, Hatfield; d. Feb. 17, 1840, Whately; dau. of Dea. Elijah and Eunice (Morton) Morton. Both are bur. at Center Cemetery.

Phineas was a Rev. War minuteman who marched as a drummer in response to the Lexington Alarm of April, 1775; was also serving in the Boston area that fall. His widow received a pension on his service {43:21, 22} & {115}. Major Phineas, as he was called, was frequently appointed to town offices, having 15 terms as a selectman when it was customary to serve once. During the town's first century, only one other man served more terms than he. He was also honored to be appointed as the town's Representative to the General Court at Boston four years and was recognized for his service by the Columbian Centinel newspaper's obituary of him, published in Boston {73:91, 159,205,467}, {75:231}, {76:149,156} & {77:184,192-3}. #E39
GILES[5] FRARY brother of #E37 Major Phineas
b. ab. 1760, perhaps Hatfield, MA; d. Feb. 15, 1803, ae 42, intestate, Hudson, Columbia Co., NY. He m. May 7, 1787, Conway, MA (VR), Prudence Stow; b. Sep. 11, 1769, Torrington, CT {70}; d. Mar. 3, 1845, Hudson, NY; dau. of Daniel and Prudence (Gilbert) Stow. Both are buried in the Hudson City Cemetery {321 v1:9}.

Before he married Prudence, at age 27, Giles may or may not have had an earlier wife. If he did, he may have lived in Ontario Co., NY, where he sold some land. The deed was not recorded until 1819, but presumably it was executed by this Giles. Only the index entry has been seen: "1819; Giles Frary of Hudson, Columbia Co., grantor, to Nathaniel Norton of Bloomfield, NY, 32-177."

The 1790 census at Conway shows 4 males 16 and over, 3 males under 16, and 5 females of all ages. Probably Giles' brother, Asa, and his wife lived there, but it is impossible to separate Giles' children from relatives and apprentices. In the 1800 census at Hudson, members of a related family are listed together; he and his wife are shown, plus a male age 16/26, a male 10/16, a male under 10, and a female under 10. Also in the household are "4 other free persons, and 2 slaves." Son Jonathan is the oldest child identified; his age at death, per obituary, dates his birth late 1786 to early 1787; but, if it erred by one year, he was born early 1788.

Residing in Hudson, 1792, Giles became active in the real estate market, as were his sons later; even his brother Phineas held Columbia Co. land which he sold 1803 and '04, although he probably never lived there. These deeds were not checked but no doubt contain much valuable information. By 1796 Giles had a tanyard assessed for 300 pounds; in 1796 he freed his slave, Peter; in 1801 he was called a merchant; and in 1803 at the time he died he was "compleating extensive turnpike roads" near Hudson according to his obituary seen in an old newspaper {251:Card 10, p. 63; Feb. 22, 1803, "The Knell"}, {319:91} & {322:312,322}.

It cannot be determined whether the following item refers to a family member since only the Columbia Co. index listing has been seen: "1817, Frederick A. Frary, grantor, et al., Guardians; Ebenezer Center, et al., grantee. Liber E; pg. 74; O."

Giles' widow, Prudence Frary, rejected administration of his estate, requesting appointment of his brother, #E41 Asa Frary. So far as known, his file has no list of heirs, and the list of children is no doubt incomplete:

E123 son?[6] b. by 1784, per 1800 census.

b. Dec. 27, 1769, perhaps Hatfield, MA; d. June 16, 1828, Frelighsburg, Quebec, age 60. He m/1 May 23, 1790, Conway, MA (VR), Mary Newhall "Polly"; b. Nov. 29, 1769 ('68?) and d. July 19, 1793, Conway (VR); dau. of Daniel and Elizabeth (Stebbins) Newhall. He m/2 June 19, 1794, Conway (VR) Polly Stow; b. Sep. 7, 1775, Torrington, CT {70}; d. July 15, 1839, Frelighsburg, Quebec; dau. of Daniel and Prudence (Gilbert) Stow {146:314} & {147 #2}.

Polly Stow's sister, Prudence, had married Asa's brother, #E39 Giles, and in 1800 they bought adjoining lots at Hudson, Columbia Co., NY, which they sold the following year. Asa was living at Canaan, in the same county, in 1803, when he administered Giles' estate. He returned to Hudson by 1805, when he was on the school committee {322:374}. By October, 1808, he was in Canada, buying land at Sutton, Brome Co., Quebec. Six years later he moved to Frelighsburg, St. Armand-East, Missisquoi Co., Quebec {316:192}. His probate records refer to son, "George, brother and tutor to the minor children, Emily and Asa." On May 25, 1823, their four children, Gilbert, George, Prudence and Emily were baptized at Trinity Anglican Church of Frelighsburg (now named Bishop Stewart Memorial Church of the Holy Trinity). The parents and many of the children are buried in the churchyard. The 1800 census at Hudson shows four children; gravestones, church and other records show six more:

In 1850, Dr. Anderson and Emily were at Lockport, Will Co., IL, with a son. Family tradition says Emily later cared for brother George's orphaned sons.

#E44
MOSES[5] FRARY brother of #E43 David
b. Feb. 8, 1750, Hatfield, MA (VR); d. Aug. 18, 1820, Peru, Berkshire Co., MA. He m. April 27, 1775, Ashfield, MA, Mary Spinning, b. Sep. 12, 1756, Guilford, CT; d. April 26, 1832, Peru; dau. of Nathaniel and Thankful (Benton) Spinning. Mary's brother, John Spinning, m. Moses' sister, #E45 Jerusha {153:22}. Although several references give Moses' birthdate several years later, a study of census records, and his date of marriage, produces evidence to confirm 1750 as correct. He was a Revolutionary War soldier in 1777, in Col. Elisha Porter's Hampshire Co., MA Militia {43:22}. Moses is enumerated at Ashfield in the censuses, 1790, 1800, and 1810. In 1820 he and wife Mary lived with son, Luman, at Peru, and in 1830, Widow Mary Frary was the head of the household, with five others, probably unmarried children in their middle years. They had thirteen children whose births were recorded at Ashfield, MA:

E149 Lucy[6] b. July 8, 1776; unm., ae 74, Peru 1850 census.

E153 Cynthia b. Jan. 5, 1784; unm., ae "62" 1850 census, Peru.
E154 Mary b. Jan. 19, 1786, Ashfield. She m. there Mar. 15, 1810, Reuben Morton of Whately; b. Aug. 31, 1786; d. Aug. 6, 1828; son of Simeon and Sybil (Graves) Morton; res. Whately {73:526}. Eight children:

E157 +Luman b. Oct. 23, 1791.
E158 Rachel b. Dec. 4, 1793. A minister's record kept by the Rev. Asa Lyon of So. Hero, VT, gave marriage, Mar. 12, 1828, of Frederick Savage and Rachel Frary {188 v20:139}. At the time, his parish was at So. Hero, Lake Champlain, but he was active and may have traveled. At one time he was minister of Sunderland, MA, where Moses' father and brother Julius lived. There seems no sign of Rachel in the census of the family after 1810, and she may have died or married someone else.
E159 Daniel b. Jan. 30, 1796; d. July 29, 1817, unm., Peru.

E160 Betsey b. Apr. 4, 1798; d. Feb. 1, 1876, Whately (?). She m. Oct. 8, 1815, Allen Sanderson, b. Feb. 25, 1796, Whately; d. prob. WI where he lived 1881; son of Isaac and Mercy (Allen) Sanderson {76:284}. Some references incorrectly identify this Betsey as wife of Joseph Thompson, a Colrain, MA, native who m. Betsey Frazee, or Frazer, dau. of Eliphalet of Durhamville, NY {354 v1:584; v2, pt. 3}. Allen and Betsey (Frary) Sanderson had eight children at Whately:

JULIUS C.[5] FRARY brother of #E43 David
b. July 27, 1755, Hatfield?, MA; d. Aug. 13, 1832, 78th yr (g.s.); Nassau, Rensselaer Co., NY; Nassau-Schodack Cem., Sec. III, row 17 {355:69}. He m/1 Dec. 29, 1791, Sunderland, MA, Submit Graves; b. May 1, 1763; d. May 15, 1799, Sunderland or Montague; dau. of Reuben and Hannah (Fuller) Graves of Sunderland. Her mother was the second wife of Julius' father. Julius m/2 by 1800, at Sunderland?, Matilda Witherell, b. ab. 1780; living 1822 {31:341-2}, {76:149} & {112:50}.

Julius was at Montague (1798 Direct Tax); not found 1800 so probably was with relatives; 1810, at Ashfield; 1820 Ghent, Columbia Co., NY. He supplied cartridge boxes for Rev. War soldiers, and enlisted many times, 1775 to 1780, as a fifer and soldier: at Ticonderoga, on a Lake Champlain galley; 2 years aboard Frigate Trumbull out of Boston; and others {43:21,22}. At Ghent, 1822, unable to pursue his silversmith trade, and almost destitute, he applied for a pension and apparently encountered federal red tape, to judge from this letter:

> Dear and Worthy Sir: . . . I find three pints needful to be proved: first, the justice of my cause; secondly, that the sarvice i stated . . . was truly don by me; thirdly, my nead of the favor and the justice of my clame . . . I sent agent distant to a sartan officer but found he died a litel previous to my call; otherwise I shold perhaps have obtaned a parmenant guidance from him . . . it becomes difficult to obtane good testamony and you & we shall all be in the grave; dear sir, be so kind as to atind to my cas yourself and inform me as son as convenent. I am, Sir, your most humble and obedant sarvent, Julius C. Frary June 21, 1825

He submitted an inventory of his worldly goods: a looking glass, $1; 4 cooking utensils, $2.25; 6 each of spoons, forks, knives, cups, saucers, and plates, $1.10; a trunk, 25¢; a large spinning wheel, $1; and a worthless small spinning wheel. He said he lived with his 42-year old wife, Matilda, and 14-year old daughter, Submit. His brother-in-law, Uriah Goodwin of Oneida Co., NY, deposed for him. A few days after sending the above letter, he was awarded $8 a month. On June 28, 1832, residing at Schodack, NY, he deposed for John Porter, a Rev. War soldier, formerly of Ashfield. Three children:

The 1850 census finds Elisha and son Norman as residents of the town farm, but a grandson wrote that Elisha spent his last years with a daughter in Norwich, VT {73:150}. An old record, purported to have been written by Elisha, gives children's names and birthdates {356 v53:14, as pub. in Yankee Magazine, 1940}. Fifteen children:

#E51
ELIHU[5] FRARY brother of #E49 Elisha
b. Jan. 7, 1766, Hatfield, MA; d. 1843, Harrisville, Medina Co., OH. He prob. m/1 by 1790. He m. (2nd?) Mar. 5, 1792, Conway, MA (VR) Jerusha Wells; bp. Feb. 12, 1775, Conway; dau. of Samuel and Hannah (Warner) Wells. Their mothers were sisters. He m. next, Elizabeth _____, who later m. _____ Tussaric or Tursaric, by Sep. 2, 1843. No gravestones or burial records have been found for Elihu and Jerusha.

The 1790 census, Whately (then Hampshire Co.) MA, lists Elihu as "Edith" in printed copy, but Elihu on script copy. Only one person lived with him, a female, doubtless a wife who may have died by the following year, possibly leaving a child. By 1800, Elihu, with a new wife and several of her Wells brothers, moved to St. Albans, (called "Elisha" 1800), and by 1810 to Georgia, both in Franklin County, VT. These two Vermont censuses show a female family member, born bet. 1784 and 1790, perhaps his sister Mary, b. 1784, not found elsewhere, and not in Ohio with Elihu, 1820.

Elihu was a resident of Wayne Co., OH, when, on May 27, 1813, he purchased 160 acres at Union township. Other deeds and censuses for that county show he lived at Lake twp. 1820, but with no female the age of Jerusha who was perhaps deceased. In 1826, he purchased six acres in Congress twp. where he lived; still there 1830 with a woman in her 40s, probably his wife Elizabeth who, with him, sold the six acres in Congress to the heirs and children of William Farra (Farrar?) as Farra had previously paid Elihu $200 for it. The 1840 census shows Elihu in his 70's, and wife in 50's, living at Harrisville where he died. On Sep. 2, 1843, Elizabeth Tussaric (Tursaric?), his widow, and Orange W. Frary, his son, waived "administration of his estate, and request appointment of Thomas Armstrong and Joseph F. Wilkins; sureties, E. A. Norton and I. T. Ainsworth." An index to probate lists his inventory sale, Dec. 5, 1843, and settlement filed May 30, 1845. He is "Elisha" in most deed indexes.

Some biographical information on a few Frary families can be found in some Ohio histories {102}, {315} and {353}. From the records available, a family is tentatively compiled. See also Addendum for a late addition to this family.

E188 Vesty[6] b. say 1790-1; perhaps named Festus after his father's brother; mentioned in both Wayne Co. histories as accompanying Oliver Day, Dr. Ezekiel Wells and Jonathan Mansfield, 1809-10, from Vermont to Wayne County where he was the first buried on the John Ramsey farm in East Union township. Simon Chaffin, Jr., was said to have helped with the burial, and his arrival in Ohio has been given as 1813. If Vesty died at about age 22, he might be father of the girl, under age 10, living with father Elihu 1820 (per census, Wayne Co. copy; the Wash. D.C. copy appears to be defective). Day was Vesty's uncle by marriage, Wells an uncle by birth, and Mansfield may have been related also.

E189 +Mordecai b. say 1790-94; age 26-45 in 1820 census, Wayne Co. copy (Wash. D.C. copy seems defective). He may have been older than Vesty and by either wife.

E190 Jerusha b. 1796 (Apr. 13, g.s.; May 5, family record); d. April 24, 1844, ae 48y 11d (g.s. insc. list). She m. Jan. 12, 1820, the Rev. Alpheus French officiating, Wayne Co., OH (VR), David Lake; b. Mar. 4, 1798; d. Feb. 12, 1871; son of Abner and Mary (Brown) Lake {276:131}. The censuses for Wayne Co. list them in 1820 at Pike twp; and 1830 and 1840 at Clinton township. Extensive Wayne Co. court records were supplied by the wife of Daniel Kopp, a gggs. of Sophronia (Lake) Lehr. Eight children from family records:

a) David Frary[7] Lake b. Jan. 20, 1821.
b) Jerusha Lake b. Jan. 27, 1822.
c) Sophronia Lake b. Dec. 17, 1824; m. Moses Jacob Lehr, Dec. 22, 1842; d. July 16, 1910.
d) Abner Brown Lake b. July 30, 1826; m. Phebe Ann Travis.
e) Mary Lake b. Jan. 20, 1828.
f) Orange Wells Lake b. July 18, 1829.
g) Aaron Page Lake b. June 22, 1831.
h) Twins who d. in infancy.

E191 Mary A. b. say 1798-1800? She m. by 1828, possibly as second wife, Abner Lake, Jr., son of Abner and Mary (Brown) Lake. The 1850 census, Clinton, Wayne Co., calls him 56 and Mary 40; possibly both errors, as Elihu's censuses suggest her birthdate about 1800. Abner Lake, Jr., was at nearby Pike in 1820, and Clinton in 1830 and 1840. Neither he nor Mary is found 1860, but Amos B., 29, and "Orin G.," 24, are still there. A note at Wayne Co. Library lists children as Phebe Ann, Amos B., Laura, James, Henry and Orange; 1850 census says Amos, Rhoda, Wm, Henry and "Elisha." Differences have been reconciled by combining them, perhaps correctly:

a) Phebe Ann[7] Lake b. ab. 1829; m. Henry Carbaugh.
b) Amos B. Lake b. ab. 1831; m. Ellen Wyre.
c) Laura Rhoda Lake b. ab. 1832; m. _____ Van Kannell.
d) James William Lake b. ab. 1834; m. Mary Lozier.
e) Henry Lake b. ab. 1835.
f) Orange Elihu Lake b. ab. 1837.

E192 +Orange Wells b. Nov. 29, 1802, Vermont.

#E52
FESTUS[5] FRARY brother of #E49 Elisha
b. Sep., 1767, Hatfield, MA; living 1830. He m. Mar. 7, 1791, Persis Lull of Northampton, MA; {245} unidentified; d. Aug. 25, 1830, ae 54 (g.s.), bur. at Orleans, Phelps twp., NY, as Parsis, wife of Festus Frary. Festus and brother Jesse are at Pittsfield, Otsego Co., NY, 1800 (census) and Jesse witnessed his purchase of land in 1802 from William Lull. (See 1967 v5:80 for Pittsfield Lulls.) He bought two more parcels in 1807; sold one in 1815, wife Percis also signing, and witnessed by son Calvin; and sold five more parcels by 1822. One in 1822 was to Cyrenus Noble (a son-in-law?) who was assessed jointly that year with son Harvey Frary on 90 acres. He lived in the part of Pittsfield set off as New Lisbon and was active in that town as highway overseer, pathmaster, and road ward, in addition to his farming. The 1810 census there calls him F. "Frazur"; but in 1820 it says Festus Frary.

In 1830 the census shows Festus at Phelps, Ontario Co., NY, and a woman, ae 20-30, with him, probably a daughter. In 1832 he purchased land, location not known, from Rufus Warner of Hopewell (Ont. Co. deed index), this the last record found. A family note says he had 14 children, including Elisha, James, Luther, Beulah and Harvey. Some may have died young, but censuses and other sources suggest this tentative list. For other likely descendants, probable grandchildren and others, check James H. and Joseph H. Frary in Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys (see index).

Starkey was a New Lisbon school commissioner; was a path master in 1823; and the next year sold his land to his father. At Cape Vincent he was a merchant, apparently quite prosperous with $10,000 worth of real estate in 1850. He was an organizer of St. John's Episcopal Church there, then part of the town of Lyme, and donated the property for the building {89}, {264:index} & {297}. In the 1850 census, the Starkey family includes Eliza Frary, 22, b. Canada. The most likely person to be her father is Beulah's brother #E195 Elisha. See also #E202 Russell. Five children:

He moved to Sharon, Schoharie Co., NY, where his parents joined him in 1798. He was an active militiaman, a captain in 1802; listed 1806 at Sharon as "moved" {265:600,853}. Listed in census, 1810, at Preston, Chenango Co., NY; and 1820 at Riga, Genesee Co., that section becoming Monroe Co. the following year. A family record says he fought in the War of 1812. He is not found in 1830 census but in next town was a Joseph Frary; see Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys. There may be an error in name and age. Census records suggest this list of children:

JOHN STODDARD[5] FRARY John[4] Jonathan[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. _____ 30, 1757, Swanzey, NH (torn record); d. bet. 1800 and 1805 at Cazenovia, Madison Co., NY. He m/1, no information available; m/2 Mrs. Lydia Peck, April 21, 1800, Cazenovia (Presbyterian Church record). John's name is not found in Rev. War records, nor is he shown as head of a household in the 1790 census. He may have lived with a family of another name, or he may have moved to Canada. Merrickville, Ont., was settled by Merricks who later lived at Cazenovia, and his son John married a Merrick. Cazenovia records tell nothing except his marriage to Mrs. Peck and her name, as a widow, on the 1805 tax list. The 1800 census shows them with four boys aged 10 to 16. Since family tradition gives him only two sons, by a previous wife, the other two may have been stepsons. Tradition, perhaps from questionable local histories, also gives him a daughter, named either Sarah or Betsey {104:82}.

E220 +Job b. ab. 1784.
E221 +John b. Feb. 15, 1785.

Vermont VR show two death records for Jonathan: Nov. 13, 1796, Strafford; also, d. age 25, Mar. 12, 1797, bur. Kibling Cemetery, Strafford. Hemenway {99 v2:1082} says Jonathan Frary of Strafford was on a subscriber list Oct. 1797 (prob. postdated) for formation of a Universalist Church. Their children were born at Strafford:

ELEAZER[6] FRARY Joseph[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
bp. Nov. 20, 1763, 1st Cong. Ch., Cromwell, CT {113}; d. 1823, intestate; Richmond, Ontario Co., NY. He m. ab. 1784; Sally? _____. Eleazer was located in censuses: 1790 Becket, Berkshire, MA; also 1800; 1810 Honeoye, Ontario Co., NY; and 1820, Richmond, NY, which had formerly been Honeoye. It was Eleazer who, on behalf of heirs of brother Benjamin, applied for a Bounty Land Warrant. His sons and those of his brother, #E74 John, collected ashes in the Richmond area, made potash from them, and sold it to merchants in Canandaigua {104:452,457 as "Freny"}.

In 1805 David Crooks of Pittstown (Richmond) sold lot 31 to Eleazer Frary, and 1814 Eleazer of Honeoye sold land to Curby and Justin Frary. Hiram Goodsell, son-in-law, named administrator Apr. 24, 1823; Sally Frary mentioned; and ch. Justin and Milton. An 1824 land transaction at Honeoye Outlet involved Hiram and Sally Goodsell of Bloomfield; Beebe and Pledis Goodsell; Curby and Louise Frary; and Justin and Benjamin Frary; all of Richmond. In 1826 Eleazer and Susan Frary of Shelby, NY, sold land in Richmond to Hiram Goodsell, and in 1831 Laurel Frary of Richmond did the same. Few records were left by this family, but these court records, although not reported in full, suggest the following:

E226 +Eleazer[7] b. ab. 1785, Becket, MA.
E227 +Curby b. say 1787, Becket, MA.
E228 Justin b. say 1790, Becket; no record except in the above land transactions. He may be the man ae 26/45 living with Curby 1820.
E229 Benjamin b. say 1795, Becket; found named only in the estate administration records of his father; may be the male 20/26 still at home in 1820.

E233 Laurel b. ab. 1810, Richmond Co., NY. She m. June 17, 1832, John Tindall at Sandusky Co., OH (VR), Samuel Treat, J.P., officiating {193}. The 1850 census, Sandusky Co., shows "Laura" as head of the family, John either away or deceased. {193}. Four children, all that are known, all born in Ohio:
  a) Albert[8] Tindall b. ab. 1833.
  b) Pledis Tindall b. ab. 1834; m. Feb. 20, 1855, George Abbott. An Abbott genealogy {192 v2:762} calls her the dau. of John and Laura (Frary) Tindall of Fremont, OH.

John and Rachel had at least four children at Becket, MA, before moving with the Crooks relatives to Honeoye, Ontario Co., NY, a town which became Richmond 1815 {104:452,457 as "Freny"} & {205: 226-230}. His sons, with those of brother Eleazer, manufactured potash which they sold to Canandaigua merchants. In 1823 John moved his family westward to Napoli, Cattaraugus Co., NY, where they farmed; there listed in each census thru 1855. While living in Ontario Co., 1819-20, he was the defendant in two cases before the Court of Common Pleas, the plaintiff in the first case being the State of Connecticut's Treasurer; and in the second, Thomas Beals, as noted from the index to cases.

They raised their family at Becket, but after Joseph's death, when dissension split the church, some of the people left to settle at Windham, Portage Co., OH, the two oldest Frary sons among them. By the fall of 1830, Widow Sarah Frary and most of her children had joined them. Family records are quite good for these children:

DAVID[6] FRARY brother of #E72 Eleazer
b. ab. 1775; prob. Loudon, MA; d. Oct. 1, 1820, Raisinville, Monroe Co., MI. He m. Dec. 1, 1803, Becket, MA (VR), Esther Kingsley of Becket; d. July 11, 1846, Blissfield, MI. She m/2 Aug. 12, 1822, Gideon West of Raisinville, and settled at Blissfield, 1825. {207:1}

In 1810 Esther lived at Becket with a son and dau. while David was in Ohio preparing a new home on Put-in-Bay, in Lake Erie. He and a partner developed a cattle and hog breeding business but all their possessions were confiscated by the British during the War of 1812. They settled on the mainland, first in Huron Co., OH, in Vermillion by 1815 {213:192} & {214:46}. About 1817, they went to Michigan, where he rented a farm. A local history {60:135} says they had seven children, "Stephen being the fifth child and fourth son." Three sons probably died by 1820 as the census that year shows only 2 boys and 2 girls, all under 10; confirmed in 1830 {220 v1:241-5}, {252 v14:54; v22:21} & {329 v1}. Seven children:

REUBEN[6] FRARY Jonathan[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
bp. Jan. 19, 1772, 1st Cong. Ch., Cromwell, CT {113}; d. Sep. 14, 1853, Lowville, Lewis Co., NY. He m. Jan. 6, 1802, Westfield, MA, the Rev. Asa Clinton officiating, Olive Weller; b. ab. 1778; alive in 1855. Reuben and Olive soon settled at Lowville where they farmed and are located in all censuses 1810-1850. {163:679}

Records from the War of 1812 credit him with service in the 101st Regt, Carter's NY Militia, Lewis County; Mar. 1-3-21, 1813, a private. In 1855, Olive Frary of Martinsburg, ae 76, widow of Reuben, applied for a Bounty Land Warrant and was rejected for failure to prove his service in the NY Militia, Oct. 1814, as wagonmaster, hauling supplies to Sackets Harbor. She gave her maiden name; approx. date of marriage; and Reuben's death date. Witnesses Edward and Hannah Lee, and Leverett Frary, #E266, all of Martinsburg, said they had known Olive for 40 years.

Few records are found on this family. Possibly Hannah Lee was a dau., listed in 1850 census as age 47, and Edward Lee 45, both b. MA. Reuben's 1850 record shows three unidentified family members, Stephen Tyler 24, Anne Tyler 20, and Jane Tyler 16, all b. NY. The list of children of Reuben and Olive is based on censuses which show in 1830 only one dau. and the two youngest sons at home. In 1840 there are still two men, 20-30, plus a girl, 10-15.

E261 dau.[7] b. 1800-04; is this Harriet (Frary) Hosmer? See her in Unplaced Frarys--Chapter V.
E262 dau. b. 1804-10; might she be Hannah Lee who testified for widow Frary, above?
E263 dau. b. 1804-10; was she the mother of Tyler children?
E264 +Phineas b. 1808-09.
E265 son b. 1810-15; unidentified; shown in 1820 and 1830 censuses.
E266 Leverett b. 1816 (g.s.) Lowville; d. 1859; bur. with bro. Phineas and family at Stockholm, and prob. reinterred with them at Brasher's Falls. Lowville 1850 census lists him as a farmer, living alone about 20 houses from parents. In 1855 he testified for his mother; not known whether he ever married and had children.

Altho Otis is called "Capt." in a Conway record and perhaps lived there with Susan for a while, information is scarce, and the Conway 1820 and 1830 censuses do not list him. "Rutland, VT, Town Meetings, I:214" states: "Otis Frary?; accepted Freeman, Sep. 1820" {202}, and the 1820 census there shows Otis "Fra," 1 male 26/45, 1 female 16/26, and 1 female under 10. After his second marriage at Concord, 1827, he was in 1830 census at Charlestown, Middlesex Co., MA, as Otis E. with wife age 30/40, a boy 5/10, and 2 girls under 5; also with them was an unidentified couple, age 20/30. JONATHAN[6] FRARY Giles[5] Phineas[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1787, prob. Conway, MA; d. July 3, 1829, ae 42 yrs, Hudson, Columbia Co., NY. He m/1 Achsah Fowler ab. 1808; b. Dec. 18, 1788, Otis, MA; d. Aug. 11, 1823, ae 35, Hudson; bur. Samuel {319:143} and Lydia (Worth) Edmonds of Hudson.

Jonathan was an intellectual, judging by his business partnership with the respected Rev. Harry Croswell with whom he operated a book store in Hudson and published The Balance, 1808-1811, featuring editorial-type articles. It was said, "It is being edited with ability and has a large circulation throughout the U.S." "It started as an independent paper but soon became a mouthpiece for the Federalist Party," to quote one historian. It also contained a plea to subscribers to pay for the paper as their finances could not permit publication much longer {251, card 39:Jan. 5, 1808}. Apparently the pleas were in vain as the Rev. Mr. Croswell returned to the ministry and Jonathan Frary became a druggist, advertising such items as Dr. Davenport's Billious Pills, and Dr. Rush's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills. One day, while he was charging his soda fountain, it exploded and a fragment hit him in the head, causing his death. As is often so with intellectuals, his worldly goods were meager; in his case less than $400 inventory taken by his brother who said Jonathan left a wife and five children (names not given) {181:158}, {320:118} & {322:409,417}.

ELIHU[6] FRARY brother of #E139 Orange
b. Sep. 7, 1781, Ashfield, MA; raised at Rupert, VT; d. Sep. 11, 1860, ae 79; bur. Oakwood Cem., Adrian City, MI, Block 8, Lot 12 {216 v1:40}. He m. ab. 1802, Sally Stebbins; b. 1785?; d. Censuses show Elihu at Rupert 1810 and '20; Elbridge, Jordan Village, Onondaga Co., NY, 1830 as "Elisha," but county historian says: "Delatus and Sally Frary, wife of Elihu, were among first members of Presbyterian Church org. 1829." He has not been found in 1840 census unless he is Elihu Ferrie of Medina, Lenawee Co., MI; or E. Frary res. nr. Delatus Frary, at Waterford, Oakland Co, MI. Neither record fits him exactly but errors are common, and E. Frary is more likely the father than his son Elihu. The 1845 state census and 1850 federal find him at Adrian, Lenawee Co., MI, as "Elisha," and in 1860 at nearby Madison as Elihu; always as a cooper, b. MA. {218:22}

In 1911 his dau., Mary Gorton, recorded Frary information for nephew #E706 Burdett, giving her mother's name and heartwarming accounts of her brothers and sisters. These letters, in possession of Burdett's dau., 1980, gave us much valuable information on the eleven children:

MORDECAI[6] FRARY Elihu[5] Elisha[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. say 1790-94, prob. Whately, MA. With little doubt, he is correctly placed as one of the two boys under 10 in Elihu's family, 1800; but it is not known whether he was the older, or whether he was the one remaining at home 1810. The census of 1820 lists him consecutively with Elihu at Lake twp., Wayne Co., OH. Index to deeds, Wayne Co., lists E. Page to M. Frary, 1820, Range 15, twp. 20, sec. 12, n.w. quarter. of Medina Co. On May 22, 1827, he purchased, for $102.50 cash, 82 acres, range 13, twp. 17, sec. 1, n.w. qu., (Canaan). The 1820 census, Wash. DC, copy, for both Elihu and Mordecai seems garbled, but the copy, p. 41, at Wayne Co., OH, seems accurate and shows Mordecai as 26/45; a female 16/26; and a girl under 10. Thus he was prob. married and had a daughter. He is not found in 1830 census. See Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys for Belinda Frary and others, possible descendants.

In 1822, at New Lisbon (formerly part of Pittsfield, NY) James was road ward with his father. His will mentions his property, "the rear half of south quarter of lot #3 in 8th concession of Bastard twp, 25 acres more or less," this being a settlement at the south end of Otter Lake, Leeds Co. {344}. He left his land to wife, Polly (nickname for Mary), for use until death or remarriage; one half then to go to his dau., Mary Frary; one quarter each to dau's, Sophia, wife of David Holmes and Lucy Jane Frary.

LUTHER[6] FRARY brother of #E195 Elisha
b. say 1805, Pittsfield, NY; m. Mary _____, b. ab. 1803, NY. Luther bought land at Hammond, NY, 1833, says one reference; at Heuvelton, NY, 1833, says another; and he and his wife bought at Oswegatchie from a Mr. Thurber in 1841. Shown in 1850 census at Oswego city, Oswego Co., NY, he was 45, a painter, b. NY, with wife Mary and three sons. He may have had older children, perhaps those men in Wisconsin who were painters.

E459 Joseph[7] b. ab. 1831; (ae 19, 1850) a painter. Possibly he went to Wisconsin in 1850 and was listed there in census also, as ae 21, painter. See Joseph H. in Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys.

E461 Martin b. ab. 1834; (ae 16, 1850) a painter. Many men were named Martin Luther and used either name. This man may be the Luther who m. Melissa. See Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys.

RUSSELL[6] FRARY brother of #E195 Elisha

He m. ab. 1834 Sarah Elizabeth Myers, b. ab. 1813, NY; dau. of Michael, Jr., and Sarah (Griswold) Myers. Joliet, IL, 1840 census shows Russell and wife with a young boy and girl plus two unidentified girls whose ages fit those of Eliza and Anna, tentatively assigned to Russell's brother #E195 Elisha. His next child was born in WI, town not known, but the 1850 census shows the parents of Russell's wife, Michael and Sarah Myers, at Berlin, Marquette Co., WI, and living with them unidentified F. J. Frary, 25, painter, and Mary G. Frary, 23, both b. NY. Also, 1850, a Joseph H. Frary, painter, 21, lived 20 miles away at Winnebago, WI, so Russell had probably located in that area. He was a merchant at Cape Vincent, NY, in 1850, and in 1860 his widow was a teacher there. Frances Griswold, 76, b. CT, lived with her, no doubt a relative (see Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys for Joseph H. and others).

JUSTUS[6] FRARY Justus[5] Elisha[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1806, prob. at Preston, NY; m. Charlotte Reynolds, b. ab. 1807, NY. A family note said they "lived in n.w. NY state, about 40 miles from Buffalo." This may refer to Riga, but son Edrick's Civil War pension application says he was born at Aurora, NY. Although Aurora, Cayuga Co., may be meant, it is more likely that it was in Erie Co., near the present East Aurora, 20 miles s.e. of Buffalo. Not yet located in 1830 and '40 censuses, Justus was a clothier in 1850 and a manufacturer 1860, both at Perry, Richland Co., OH. Seven children:

E468 +Frank G.[7] b. ab. 1827, NY.

Like Thomas, he did not fulfill his term. No marriage known.
E470 +Edrick Justus b. June 1833, NY
E471 +Elisha b. ab. 1835, NY.
E472 +Thomas C. b. ab. 1840, OH.
E473 Sidney b. ab. 1844, OH; g.s. says "b. Sep. 7, 1845; d. Sep. 14, 1846, 1y 7d" but this conflicts with Henry.
E474 +Henry A. b. Mar. 1846, OH.

Frary in 1848 purchased from Michigan 40 acres in Caledonia, Shiawassee Co., Sec. 2. {180:211} It could be Alfred P. or #E522 Almon Phineas Frary. Alfred was at Lodi, Seneca Co., NY, 1850 census, called Frederick Frary; Raisin, MI, 1860, and Tecumseh, 1870, both in Lenawee Co.; last found at Raisin 1880; not located in 1900 census. He was a farmer {203:141-2} & {204:502}. Four children:

b. ab. 1823, Hartford, VT; d. ab. 1859?; m. Margaret A. _____, b. ab. 1826, NY. She m/2 1861? Charles B. Smith, b. ab. 1832, England. Benjamin and family were at Lodi, NY, 1850, a laborer like his father and brother. Next found at Raisin, Lenawee Co., MI, Alfred P. and E. F. Frary (error for B. F.?) were on voter list "prior to 1859," with a notation, "E. F. Frary died prior to Mar. 1, 1860." Alfred's widow told a grdau. that Benjamin went west at the time of the gold rush and was not heard from again. Son Jesse said his family left NY for Lenawee Co., 1853 and went to St. Joseph Co., 1861 {308:Personal Histories p. 23}. The 1870 census, Nottawa, St. Joseph Co., shows Margaret with 2nd husband, her Frary and Smith children, and Catherine Bennett, 78, b. NY, who was perhaps her mother. Six children:

E480 Sarah E.[7] b. ab. 1847, NY.

JOB[6] FRARY John Stoddard[5] John[4] Jonathan[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1784, VT? He m. ab. 1808, Rebecca Hendricks; b. ab. 1782, VT; dau. of William Hendricks. He was in War of 1812, Brundage's NY Riflemen, and Dobbin's NY Militia, from Steuben Co.; and in census 1810, Pulteney; 1820, Cohocton. They moved to Cuyahoga Co., OH, 1826; then Concord (in Geauga Co. 1830; became Lake Co. 1840). Neither Job nor Rebecca is found 1850; she is with son Richard 1860 and 70. Richard's biography {324:744-5} says his father was John (error); gave names of his mother and her father; said grmo. was a Ball. A tentative list of children is compiled from census records which, at that time, listed only sex and age groups; they may not be in order:

E486 son b. 1804-1810; either Cazenovia or Pulteney, NY; in census 1810 and 1820; gone by 1830.
E487 +Solomon B.[7] b. Dec. 1813, Steuben Co. NY.

E490 +Richard B. b. 1817, Steuben Co. NY.
E491 dau. b. ab. 1821, Steuben Co. NY.
E492 son b. 1820-1825, Steuben Co. NY. Probably T. Sherman Frary, but proof is lacking. See him in Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys.

Lieut. JOHN[6] FRARY brother of #E220 Job
b. Feb. 15, 1785, VT? d. Oct. 3, 1845, Lyndon, Cattaraugus Co., NY. He m. ab. 1805, Cazenovia? NY, Ruth Merrick; b. 1775-80, NY; living 1850; perhaps dau. of Wm. or Charles Merrick of Cazenovia {325:278-9}. John was in the War of 1812 and lieutenant of the militia, 1821; assessed at Cazenovia, 1812; at Rindever-Ischua twp, Catt. Co., NY, 1820 census. He bought his farmland from Holland Land Co. and gave a corner of it to the Baptist Church. At Lyndon, 1830 and 1840 censuses. In 1850, his wife, Ruth, living with her daughter-in-law, is age 75, which agrees with all censuses, making her several years her husband's senior. A history {104:82} and a DAR application incorrectly identify John as son of #E17 Elisha, and John's wife as a Merritt rather than Merrick. The sister of the above, in her application, correctly named Ruth Merrick {161 v58:120; National No. 57347}. See #E896 Arden. John had four children:

E493 Jane[7] (Ruth Jane?) b. ab. 1807; d. Sep. 6, 1838, ae 30; a teacher; unm.; bur. with family at Rawson Cemetery.

Fremont, OH; dau. of Samuel and Margaret (Green) Cochran. Although Phineas is not firmly placed as son of John[6] and Rachel, their census shows a son b. 1790-1800, gone by 1820. No doubt his father named him for his young cousin, #E82 Phineas, who had met a tragic death a few months earlier. Phineas was taxed at Vermilion, Huron Co., OH {213:353}, before settling at Wolf Creek and Ballville, Sandusky Co., 1817, where he was on the first jury, 1822. Censuses 1830 and 1840 at Ballville show him, and that of 1850 lists Nancy. Several cousins, children and grandchildren of #E72 Eleazer also settled around Ballville. A family history {331:57-8} incorrectly identifies the father of Phineas but provides considerable information on descendants {332:584-9, 596}. Eight children, b. Ballville:

E521 Marshall Phineas b. Aug. 12, 1824. Family tradition says he and brother Almon went to California for the gold rush, operated the Stonewall Jackson mine, married and settled there. M. Frary was among 370 passengers who arrived at San Francisco, Aug. 15, 1850, on ship "Northerner" from Panama, a passage of about 16 days with a three-day stop in Acapulco {358 v2:15}. Employed very soon, the 1850 census calls him a clerk, living with two other men at Sacramento. Deeds at Ingham Co., MI, show that Marshall "Frasy" of California sold land in Lansing twp. to Solomon Lansing of Sandusky Co., OH, in 1854. No later Sacramento records have been searched.

JOHN[7] FRARY brother of #E234 Phineas
b. ab. 1797, Becket, MA; d. Aug. 10, 1887, Napoli, Cattaraugus Co., NY; bur. E. Randolph Cem., Randolph, NY. He m. ab. 1820, Abigail Lovina _____; b. 1801? Columbia Co., NY; d. 1863?, Napoli. John's grave is marked "War of 1812" but he is not found yet on a service list. He was a farmer at Napoli on all censuses 1830-1880, except 1850 when he was at Randolph. In 1886 he deeded his land to son Isaac.

Mystery surrounds a centenarian whose death certificate reads, "John Frary, Jr., b. Mar. 20, 1824, Napoli, NY; son of John Frary; widowed. Mother unknown. Died May 21, 1924. Buried E. Randolph, May 21, 1924. Informant: C. E. Booth." The NY Times said he died at Ellicottville at home of James Signore; left no near relatives. Since censuses show no fourth son, and Isaac's history is not known after 1880, it seems likely the "centenarian" was John Isaac, and that his age at death was slightly exaggerated. Three known children:

E532 +Harvey[8] b. Nov. 11, 1821.
E533 +Miles b. Oct. 22, 1824.
E534 +Isaac b. ab. 1827.

The census, 1830, Napoli, NY, calls him head of family with a woman 15-20 and a man, probably brother Cyrus and his wife. In 1840, he was at Whiteside Co., IL, head of a household of 3 other men, 2 women, 1 boy, and 3 young girls. Bastian's history {283:343,349,351} says Marvin and Richard Potter built a distillery, and "Inasmuch as whisky sold for 12 to 15 cents a gallon, the project was not profitable and was abandoned." Marvin sold a claim to real estate there. A Myron Frary who "d. at Portland 1836" may be a son of Marvin but more likely is his brother, Myron, with an incorrect date. Census of 1850, same county, District 37, shows him age 50, with wife and dau., also two Ellithorpe boys, probably step-sons. Census, 1860, lists wife and dau. at Prophetstown with the younger Ellithorpe as family head; Marvin perhaps deceased. One known child:

At 16 he bound himself out to a Dr. Bardwell for 5 years, and then went west. He settled first in Wisconsin, then at Lamoille, IL, as a merchant of dry goods and shoes. Always active in civic affairs, he became the first supervisor of the town, and deacon of the Congregational Church. This information comes from his pension file and a local history {72:524-6}, which also tells about his brothers and sisters, of whom only Pamelia was alive in 1885. His Civil War service was in G Co., 139th IL Inf.; discharged as captain. A head injury suffered when he fell from a load of hay in 1887 was soon followed by a severe stroke which paralyzed one side. A business directory, 1860, calls him "treas., Princeton, Bureau Co., IL." Censuses 1870, 1880 and 1900 list him and Anne at Lamoille. One child b. WI; others in IL {73:469} & {75:231}.

MORRIS[7] FRARY Orange[6] Phineas[5] Phineas[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. July 17, 1808, Whately, MA; d. June 13, 1857, Factoryville, Richmond Co., (Staten Island) NY; bur. Trinity Chapel Cementery. He m. Apr. 27, 1831, Richmond, Emaline Leffingwell; b. 1807-8 CT; living 1880 {272}. The marriage record, as copied, calls the groom "Mr. Flury." They were at Castleton, Staten Island, 1850, and widow Emaline is there 1860. The 1870 census wasn't checked but in 1880 she lived with son Augustus at Northfield, SI. Of her seven children, the first was possibly born in CT and all others in NY:

E623 Mary Louise[8] bp. Apr. 8, 1832, Richmond. She m. John Rathburn Lyon; b. Aug. 14, 1818; d. Feb. 4, 1877, Glenville, CT; son of David and Charity (Wilson) Lyon {285 v3:110,165}. Father and son were blacksmiths in Glenville, a section of Greenwich, Fairfield Co., CT. The 1860 census shows John and Mary with one child:

Her bro., Augustus "Frayer," is Soundexed (indexed) as living with his sister, Emma Perochean, but the correct census record could not be located. Pension file of her bro., William, had a statement by Emma's dau. that William was her uncle (1915). Only this dau. is known:
a) Grace L.[9] Perochean.

DWIGHT[7] FRARY brother of #E317 Morris
b. Aug. 16, 1812, Whately, MA. He m. Nov. 2, 1833, Richmond, Richmond Co. (Staten Island) NY, Elizabeth Cristopher; b. 1810? NY; perhaps dau. of Joseph and Elizabeth (Wood) Cristopher or Christopher. The marriage was performed at the Reformed Prot. Dutch Church, Richmond, of which all the above were members {273}. A collection of abstracts of probate records says Richard Wood of Northfield, SI, made a will 1839, probated 1845, leaving his estate to second wife, but the proceedings mention Richard, John and Henry Christopher; Eliza, wife of "DeWitt" Frary; and others without mentioning relationships. Dwight was a house carpenter at Castleton, at least 1850-1870 {174:532, Liber G., p. 63}. Five children:

E630 Amelia[8] b. Jun. 13, 1834; bp. May 16, 1843.

CALVIN[7] FRARY Jonathan[6] Giles[5] Phineas[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1807, MA; d. Jan. 3, 1893, Indianapolis, IN. He m. Oct. 29, 1829, Kingston, Ulster Co., NY, Louisa Chollet of Saugerties; b. 1811-12 NY; dau.? of Frederick and Rebecca (Bogardus) Chollet {244 v92:35; 97:217}. Alive in 1860, she may have been his surviving widow. Only circumstantial evidence places Calvin, born in Mass., as son of Jonathan and Achsah (Fowler), whose 1820 census shows a boy b. 1804-1810. The 1810 census, Hudson, NY, shows no Jonathan; as a printer he may have worked in Mass.; may have married there (Fowlers res. Otis, MA, until at least 1800); and perhaps a son was born there. A search of Ulster Co. records shows no Frary except Calvin; the nearest Frarys were only a few miles up the river from Kingston, at Hudson, where Jonathan lived. Jonathan and Calvin shared the same trade and interests; there is almost no doubt they were father and son.

Calvin, a printer, editor, and publisher, put out The Ulster Palladium at Saugerties, NY, 1828, and then worked with such men as Horace Greeley, the elder Bennett, and Abell, presumably spending much time at NYC. (NY Times, Jan. 4, 1893, p. 3, col. 3) In 1840 he bought a newspaper in Salem, IN, of which it was written {323:390-1}: "With Frary at the helm, the Republican did noble work for the Democracy in the campaign of 1840." He sold in 1841 to go to Iowa; returned and bought it back 1845, selling again 1847. Censuses 1850 and 1860, Newburgh, Warrick Co., IN, list him as a printer; next found as a member of New Albany, IN, Masonic Lodge, outside Louisville, KY, but the secretary has no information on birthplace nor other data. In 1878 he became a compositor for Indianapolis News and still worked there when he died at 84, having spent 70 years in his trade {181:661}. Probably only two children:

E635 John Calvin[8] b. Oct. 31, 1831, NY; a printer at Louisville, KY, 1850; admitted 1852 to Military Academy at West Point, NY; resigned 1855; 1860 a surveyor, living with parents; 1863 to 1894 a printer (Indianapolis city directories) res. at boarding houses until his father moved to the city. He was a compositor at the News with his father at time of his father's death. There 1894; not found again.
E636 Josephine b. 1841-2, IA; with parents 1860; died before her father.

Quite possibly he is the George W. Frary, lawyer, at NYC, 1844-45 (city dir.). Living at Canaan, Columbia Co., 1850 and 1860, he was called a farmer, with the value of his real estate growing from $8000 to $10,000 in that period {292:310}. He m/4 summer, 1862, Chatfield, MN, a milliner; name unknown. He m/5 fall of 1870, Ashfield, MA, Anna ____; b. 1820, Switzerland; widow of Zenas Field. Because of her foreign ways and accent, the family opposed this marriage, but her loving care of her husband during eight years of paralysis following a stroke earned her their respect.

Milo, a Rupert farmer, yearning to serve the church, but lacking an education, had a dream which convinced him he was worthy. The Massachusetts Baptist Convention Annual (1880) eulogizes him for "a very active and efficient ministry of nearly 40 years." Also: "Sound, thorough, unselfish and full of faith, Bro. Frary did his work fully and well." Other Baptist records {179} show Milo at Windham, VT, 1837-9; Guilford, VT, 1840-1; Heath, MA, 1842-3; Colerain, MA, 1844-5; No. Stonington, CT, 1849-51; and Brownsdale, MN, 1862-7. A long account of Milo by gson, Albert Booth, says he was "fully 6' tall, corpulent in late years, fair complexioned with light hair and blue eyes." Booth said his gmo. was Polly Ann Patterson but her son's marriage record at Colerain, 1866, says Polly Patten {99 index}, {157:64},{187:248} & {206:85}. Nine children:

The Rev. WILLIAM[7] FRARY David[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. July 5, 1808, Pawlet, VT; d. prob. ab. 1898, MI? He m/1 ab. 1827, Mary Baldwin; b. 1806, NY; d. Dec. 10, 1885, ae 79, Rochester, NY; bur. Fredonia, NY, as was her son (Roch. Union & Adv., Dec. 11, 1885). Her will was admitted to probate Mar. 1, 1886. A Bible record {162 v2:58? (1935)} indicates she was dau. of Samuel and Sarah (Pierce) Baldwin. Apparently they were divorced as William m/2 Harriet ____, bet. 1850 and 1880. Censuses show him in 1830, Alden, Erie Co., NY; 1840, Richland, Oswego Co., NY; 1850, Gorham, Ontario Co., NY, when wife was Mary, 43, b. NY; 1880 Adrian, Lenawee Co., MI, "Rev. Wm Frary 73 b. VT and Harriet, wife, 59, b. VT." As a Baptist minister he served NY State churches at Marion 1845-6; Gorham 1849; Seneca Falls 1851-5; and Springport in late 1850s. In 1861 a Ft. Wayne, IN, church admitted him as a member. With no further pastorates, he res. Hudson, MI, late 1860s; then Clinton, MI; and is last named in Michigan Baptist State Annual, 1898 {179}.

Random unconfirmed records list children as William, Mary E., John and Elizabeth (same as Mary E.?), and we add Julia with strong evidence:

E687 Julia E.[8] b. Mar. 23, 1828, Evans, Erie Co., NY. She m. July 14, 1854, Rochester, James VanPelt Schofield; b. Dec. 4, 1825, son of the Rev. James and Almira (McAllister) Schofield; d. May 18, 1898, St. Louis, MO. He was a prominent Baptist minister, DD from U. of Chicago; pastorates at Quincy, IL; St. Louis; and DesMoines, IA. A Baptist reference {311:140-2, with James' portrait} called Julia "dau. of a Baptist minister," and the census at St. Louis, 1880, says her father was b. in VT. Another record {169 v2:1122} calls her Celestia Juliette. The 1850 census shows her as Julia E., res. with Dr. John Jay Treat family at Rochester, probably so she could attend a seminary. Six children:

a) Garnett Boone[9] Schofield b. Jan. 26, 1857; d. 1860.

Aug. 5, 1897, ae 63. City dir. list him as merchant and office worker; 1865 Adrian, MI, as Reverdy; 1869 Buffalo, NY; 1871 Chicago; 1878 Toledo; 1880 Chicago; 1882 Rochester, 1882-4 St. Louis; and then last at Rochester. No children known. See #E364.

E689 Mary E. b. 1837-8; last found in 1850 census.
E690 John? b. say 1855, if by 1st wife; 1860, 1870 censuses not yet found; perhaps Wm. had a son by 2nd wife. The 1890 Adrian, MI, dir. shows 2 Frarys, an unk. John, blacksmith, and the Rev. Wm., living on Main St. and Broad St. respectively.
E691 Elizabeth b. say 1857? Perhaps she is Mary E., or Julia E., or a child of 2nd wife, Harriet.

DELATUS WHITCOMB[7] FRARY Elihu[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Jan. 1804, VT; d. bet. 1881 and 1911, Noblesville, IN. He m. ab. 1835 Elizabeth _____; b. 1810? NY; living 1860. He m/2 bef. 1870 Hannah B., prob. Wid. Kerr; b. Oct. 1819, NY; res. as wid. in 1900 with dau. at Denver, CO. Usually as D. W. or Delatus, he is listed in the following: 1829, Presb. Ch. member, Jordan, NY; 1830 census, Brooklyn, Cuyahoga Co., OH, alone; 1840, Waterford, MI; 1850, as Frearey, Sylvania, Lucas Co., OH, daguerreotypist; 1860, same town, cooper; 1866 bus. dir., McLean Co., IL, prop. of Kerr's Hotel, called D. Whitcomb Frary; 1870, Lexington, same co., grocer, and 2nd wife, Hannah, is hotelkeeper, having $12,000 worth of real estate in her name; 1880, still there, he as hotelkeeper.

In 1911 his sister, Mary, wrote: "He had never been very strong but was studious, reading religious books principally and yearning to be a minister." His father disapproved, she said. Concerning Delatus' desire to be a minister, the following g.s. inscription is of interest: "Mary E. Frary, wife of Rev. D. B. Frary, d. Oct. 10, 1834, ae 19y 7m." It seems plausible that Delatus may have entered the ministry for a brief period and suffered the loss of a very young wife. The g.s. initial is wrong, and another record reads 1854. However, this burial was at Tipton {216 v2:191} near Adrian, MI, where his family settled. Delatus' sister, Mary, also said that he lost his mind when his son died. Delatus died at his daughter's home, never having regained his sanity. Two children:

E698 +Allen W.[8] b. ab. 1837, NY?
E699 Sarah J. b. ab. 1840, MI; res. Noblesville, IN.

Census 1870, Adrian, MI, shows Julia and son only; 1880 they lived in son's home, Chicago, IL, and 1881 dir. calls Frank a cigar dealer; in 1886 they were there, Frank's occupation not given. His sister, Mary, said they moved to Pontiac. He is prob. the E. F. Frary who purchased 120 acres in Sec. 22, New Haven, Shiawassee Co., 1854, but they may not have lived there {180:249}. One child:

The census finds them 1850 at Monroe with her parents; 1860, Adrian, MI, artist; 1870, Lockport, photographer; 1880 Three Rivers, selling pumps. His obituary says he made daguerreotypes and ambrotypes, being a pioneer and skillful artist. He worked at Marion, OH; Bucyrus, OH; and Kelley's Island, Lake Erie, returning to Adrian, 1855; then in 1860 to Three Rivers. He had first been a cooper with brother Delatus at Sylvania, OH. During his last years, 1891-95, he was in Columbus, OH, city directories as a traveling agent, usually living with son, Burdette. Six children:

MILO[7] FRARY Possibly: Almon[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]

b. 1828? (ae 22, 1850 census), or Dec. 1833 (g.s.: 33y 6m 16d); d. June 12, 1867, bur. Pulaski Cem., Richland, Oswego Co., NY. He m/1 Sarah Ann _____, b. ab. 1832; d. Mar. 23, 1851, 18y 8m 4d; bur. with Milo. He m/2 June 1855, Lois A. (Wilder) Adams, dau. of Nixon Wilder of Brattleboro, VT, and wid. of Samuel S. Adams of Sandy Creek, NY. Lois m. next Lyman Moore of Boylston and Oswego Co., NY, and d. at Decatur, NE, 1886 {20:44}.

Milo, not yet located in the 1860 federal census nor state censuses 1855 and 1865, cannot be placed with so little information, although it is evident he belongs to the families of either #E139 Orange Sr. or #E144 Almon. Almon's adopted daughter, Minerva, m. #E355 Orange Jr., and their 1850 census shows them and children; Minerva's parents, Almon and Dorcas; and "Milo Frary, ae 22, b. NY." He has not been found in an 1840 census, and while he may be a nephew of Orange, Jr., he may be an adopted son of Almon (probably not a natural son). Almon's 1840 census was incorrectly recorded. Probably two children:

E707 +Milo Wilder[8] b. Mar. 6, 1857.

E708 (Lawson?) Cemetery record, d. Jan. 16, 1864, bur. on Milo's lot. No age given {199}.

After inventing a woodworking machine, he left for Middlebury, VT, to start his own business; married there and had a daughter, but she and mother died very soon. Perhaps before this, Hervey went to Valparaiso, Chile, representing a New York firm, to set up factories for wooden products. Upon his return, he settled at Potsdam, NY, and by 1860 moved to Jonesville, Chittenden Co., VT, where he owned and operated the Frary Spool Factory. In 1882 he was earning $10,000 to $12,000 and using 400 cords of wood each year to manufacture spools for Belding Silk Co., and other turned goods. Before 1900 he had moved his business to Berlin, Renssalear Co., NY, where he and his son Edward were spool manufacturers. He is said to have educated his sons at Montpelier Academy and Worcester Polytechnic Inst., and his daughters at St. Johnsbury Academy {73:471}, {75:232} & {306:14}. Nov. 18, 1844, Tarlton, OH; d. ab. Feb. 1923, NJ? Her obituary in Fort Wayne (IN) Journal-Gazette, Feb. 27, 1923, named her brothers, Monroe W. and Charles B. Fitch of Fort Wayne.

Henry enlisted June 4, 1862, at Lexington, OH, for Civil War service as a private, Co. B, 87 OH Inf.; discharged Oct. 1, 1862. At the surrender of Harper's Ferry, he was captured and was a paroled prisoner from Sep., 1862, to Jan., 1863. He soon joined Batteries

E & H, 2nd Ohio Heavy Artillery, and was discharged a lieutenant, Aug. 29, 1865. He applied at Huntington, IN, for a pension, 1892, and his file is source of considerable information. His cause of disability was catarrh and severe deafness in both ears. In 1915 he said all children were living except Albert and Mabel. He and Melessa were divorced 1901, Huntington, IN; remarried at Doylestown, PA, Apr. 11, 1911, but when she applied for a pension following his death, it was rejected because she was not married to Henry in 1905 when Congress enacted veterans' benefit laws. From 1865 to 1896 they lived at Lexington, KY; Walla Walla, WA, 1880; Ft. Wayne, IN; and Huntington, IN, 1900; then Toledo, OH. He is listed in Ft. Wayne city dir. 1874, 1883, and 1890, shipping clerk. In the 1900 census Melessa reported four children, all living, so the other two probably died very young.

SOLOMON B.[7] FRARY  Job[6] John Stoddard[5] John[4] Jonathan[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Dec. 1813, Steuben Co., NY; living 1900. He m. ab. 1843, Margaret _____; b. Dec. 1820, NY; her father b. Ireland, mother at NY. The census, 1850, at LaPrairie, Marshall Co., IL, shows this family with brother Richard, called "Ferrea," and Solomon is named "Johnson Ferrea." With them was Jane Crawford, 17, b. NY, who was probably a relative. In 1860 he is still a farmer at LaPrairie, called "Ferary"; thereafter called Frary, in 1870 he had $4000 in real estate and $1200 personal property. In 1880, John Whitten, farm laborer, lived with them, but in 1900 he was head of the family, and called John Whitlow, with his wife, a Frary daughter. Solomon and Margaret Frary lived with them in 1900; Margaret is called mother of no children; an obvious error as all are shown in censuses. This census also assigns her parents' birthplaces to Solomon, and his parents' to her {324:744-5}. Six known children, all born in Illinois (also see Addendum):

E881 Rody Ann[8] b. ab. 1844.

JOHN[7] FRARY  probably brother of #E487 Solomon B.
b. ab. 1815, NY; living 1880; m/1 (name unknown); m/2 Laura _____, b. ab. 1832, NY; parents b. MA and NY. John is first found 1880 unless he is John Frare of Wabash Co., IL, 1840; or John B. Frary (see Chapter V--Unplaced Frarys). The 1880 census finds him with wife Laura, prob. a second wife, and a daughter, at Pontiac, Livingston Co., IL, in the neighborhood where brother Solomon's sons settled a few years later. The census shows his parents' birthplaces as NH and NY. Because Job's father was the only Frary in NH that early, and because Job had an unidentified son this age, John is tentatively placed here.

E888 Lorrie[8] b. ab. 1872, IL.

RICHARD B.[7] FRARY brother of #E487 Solomon

A biographical account {324:744-5} says Richard left his Ohio home in 1838 to spend 18 months at Pecatonica, IL, and then returned to Ohio. In 1841 he moved to Peoria Co., IL, for 4 years; Greene Co., 4 years; Peoria Co., 2 years; and then to Marshall Co. in 1850, where he and his brother, Solomon, opened farms on sections 19 and 20, Lawn Ridge Village in s.w. corner of LaPrairie township. The 1850 census calls him Ferrea; 1860, R. B. Ferary; 1870 and 1880, Richard B. Frary; not found 1900, when Widow Catherine lived with dau. Rebecca in Iowa. Of Catherine's six children, two survived in 1900. In 1880, two children were deceased, and only four names known.

ELEAZER CLAY[8] FRARY half-brother of #E507 Albert
b. Sep. 15, 1846, Shelby, Orleans Co., NY; d. ab. 1914, Tyrone, Schuyler Co., NY. He m/1 June 18, 1865 (1868?) Ellen Austin, b. Sep. 22, 1852 (per 1880 census). She was also known as Ellen Smith while being raised by a grandmother named Smith. She died at Tyrone. Eleazer m/2 1894? Ruth Scott, b. July 1, 1874.

Family tradition says that following the death of Eleazer's father, his mother and some of her stepsons had disagreements which prompted her to move to Schuyler Co., NY, with her son, Eleazer, and two children of an earlier marriage. There she bought a farm on Six Nations Hill, near Tyrone; Eleazer lived there the rest of his life. The 1880 and 1900 censuses call the town Orange. After graduating from Oberlin College, and teaching two years, Eleazer ran his farm but was more interested in raising the fine horses which he raced at tracks around the country. A daughter remembers him as "a gentle, very loving man, but not a good businessman; his love of horses was his only interest." A granddaughter's impression of him was "a very well-to-do country gentleman." Twelve children:

ALMON PHINEAS[8] FRARY Phineas[7] John[6] Joseph[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Oct. 18, 1826, Ballville, OH; d. Dec. 19, 1914, San Diego Co., CA, ae 88y. He m/1, name unknown, b. MO; m/2 ab. 1870, Elizabeth Farley, b. Nov. 1842, IA. A. P. Frary purchased from Michigan 40 acres in Caledonia, Shiawassee Co., in 1848, but whether this was Almon P. or #E216 Alfred P. is not known {180:211}. Shortly after the 1850 Ohio census, Almon and his two brothers left, probably individually, for the California gold rush and engaged in activities in and near Sacramento. In 1857 Almon lived 50 miles east of that city, at Grizzly Flats, Eldorado Co., when The San Francisco Daily Evening Bulletin announced the birth of a daughter to "Alexander" P. Frary. In 1892 Almon was a wine broker at Oakland, says the city directory.

At some time he owned the Stonewall Jackson mines in the Cuyamaca Mountains which produced more than three million dollars in gold. That may have been when the 1900 census calls him a mine owner, residing in San Diego, with a second home 40 miles into the mountains at Julian. Except for the 1900 census, little is known about this family which then included "Eliza," his wife of 30 yeras; his mother-in-law, Sarah M. Farley; and his two teenage grandchildren, born in Arizona. If they were not orphans, perhaps their parents were in the mining country and the children were attending high school in San Diego. M. F. Frary of Arizona is tentatively placed here as a very likely son of Almon and as a likely father of these children. While Almon's known children were by an earlier wife, the 1900 census states that Eliza was mother of two, one of them deceased, but whether they were Frarys is not determined.

E936 +M. F.[9] b. say 1853, (tentatively suggested).
E937 Almon Phineas, Jr. b. Mar. 1855, CA (1900 census); miner at Julian, San Diego County. He m. ab. 1894 Elizabeth M. _____, b. Oct. 1856, PA. She had no children. Her unm. uncle, Silas K. Mallock, lived with them. Probably Almon Jr. had an earlier wife, and possibly children. If he was father of the grandchildren mentioned above, the 1900 census erred either in giving his birthplace as CA, or in stating the children's father was born in Iowa.
E938 M. G. b. Oct. 5, 1857, Grizzly Flats, CA. Listed in 1892 Oakland city dir., residing at her father's address as Miss M. G. Frary.

(Gillmore) Smith from Seneca Co., NY {332:589}. This may be the Jonas Smith of Shelby, Orleans Co., NY, 1830, enumerated next to #E226 Eleazer Frary. When a grandson of Eleazer married in Lansing, MI, Orin and Martha were witnesses, 1874. Orin was a druggist, farmer and cattle dealer.

Orin went to California by boat, crossed Nicaragua by mule, arrived at San Francisco Oct. 16, 1851, and was associated with his brothers near Sacramento for a year and a half, perhaps in mining. He returned to Ohio to marry and settled at Fremont where he enlisted in 1862 for the Civil War as a 2nd Lt; Co. A, 111 OH Inf.; served seven months and was pensioned. In 1863 he lived at Hot Springs, SD; Lansing, MI, 1872, where he was keeper of the fair grounds; 1888, Cascade, Fall River Co., Dakota Ter.; 1891, Lansing, cattle dealer; and 1890, Maitland, SD. The 1887 Lansing city dir. shows his wife and daughter {106 v16:143}.

His pension application paints a vivid picture: "In December, 1884, I was caut out in a Blizzard 50 miles East of here near Pine Ridge agency; got lost; was out five days and four knights without fier or food witt the thermoneter at 35 below zero. I froze the toes on one foot so bad the bone was froze; had to hav one toe amputated, and the heal of the other foot was froze So bad that the flesh all had to be cut off but it did not injure the bone. HENRY S.[8] FRARY Stephen[7] David[6] Joseph[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Nov. 6, 1845, Blissfield, MI; d. prob. by 1880. He m. Anna Porter, b. ab. 1852, OH; d. May 13, 1932, Los Angeles, CA. A history of Lenawee Co., MI {60:136} says that Henry "was a soldier in the War of the Rebellion, and was drowned in the Mississippi River." He enlisted Aug. 31, 1864, in the Civil War, Co. D, 4 MI Inf., at Adrian. His National Archives service file shows a medical furlough in Oct., 1865, when he was to return to Blissfield to recuperate. A muster roll, the following spring, bears his name, but no discharge date was found.

Very likely Henry returned to Blissfield and died before 1880, leaving a widow Anna and a son Charles. Anna must have married next his cousin, John E. Frary, son of Benjamin, as John ae 30, b. MI, appears in the 1880 census at Royalton, Fulton Co., OH, with wife Anna, 28, and Charles, 4. In Pleasant View Cemetery, Blissfield, is a stone: "John E. Frary, 1849-1909." (see #E559 under his father, Benjamin #E259).

Many years later, in 1970, Charles' widow wrote that he and his widowed mother moved about 1918 from Blissfield to Los Angeles, CA; that his father was Henry and his mother was Anna Porter who died about 1933. The L.A. city directories, 1930 and 1931, show Mrs. Anna Frary and Charles H. Frary at the same address, and her death record {61} the following year said her spouse was J. E. Frary. Charles' widow said he had talked of his aunt, Minnie Robinson, and cousin, Ed Cram, the latter a "Frary cousin" not identified, but Minnie was probably John's sister Minerva. Henry and Anna had one known child:

E996 Charles Henry[9] b. Nov. 9, 1874, Blissfield, MI; d. Mar. 5, 1959, Tulare Co., CA {61}. He m. May 1, 1935, Grace B. Root, b. July 3, 1884, Cleveland, OH; d. by 1979. Charles was owner of a taxi business in Blissfield for many years and a choir member at Angeles Temple in Los Angeles. His widow did not state whether he had been married before.

CHARLES FRANCIS[8] FRARY Phineas[7] Reuben[6] Jonathan[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]

Charles was a farmer at Brasher in 1880, and at Lawrence in 1900, where they lived first on Ferris Road. About 1886 they moved a mile east on Savage Road where Charles and his three sons remodeled an old school house into a dwelling. It is still owned and occupied by descendants. He ran a vegetable farm called "High Banks," and had a mill on the riverbank, where he made chairs and barrel staves. Four children, all sons, born St. Lawrence County:

JAMES DARIUS[8] FRARY James Ashbel[7] James[6] Samuel[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Sep. 20, 1833, Meriden, CT; d. 1890 (g.s.) {68 as James B.}. He m. Dec. 22, 1852, Meriden, Ellen Augusta Peck of Berlin, CT; d. 1899; bur. at Berlin with husband and oldest child {67}, {68} & {70}. James was an enterprising young man and became a very successful manufacturer. He left home at 16 to work in a New York City hardware store, and returned about two years later to his father's factory where he soon took charge of the manufacture of brittannia ware. He was successively a partner or owner of the Meriden Britannia Co., the Meriden Hardware Co., and Frary, Benham & Co. {65:84-92}. He sold his interest to a Waterbury company for whom he worked a short time, but returned to Meriden once again to manufacture hardware as Frary & Company. When this was consolidated with another company to become Landers, Frary & Clark, located in New Britain, he moved to that city and was appointed president in 1870 {66:360}. His next venture was formation of Frary Cutlery Co. in Bridgeport in 1876, manufacturing table cutlery, with 769 employees by 1881 {63:168, with portrait}.

James was a respected, public spirited citizen, active in the Republican Party, and in the State Legislature where he served in 1868. The censuses show him in 1860 at Meriden and in 1870 at New Britain, as a manufacturer. He and his family were baptized and confirmed at St. Mark's (Episcopal) Church in New Britain, where he became a member of the Vestry {64}. City directories for New York City, 1870-73, call him a hardware merchant with a residence in Connecticut. No doubt he distributed the many types of "Frary Spring Balances," which various family members have collected. The Bridgeport city directories, 1876 to 1883, show him with his business.

His latter years were probably less than happy. In 1884, the Bridgeport directory reported no occupation. His son, Harry, who lived with him, worked for another company and soon moved to Baltimore. In 1887, James roomed at 27 Cannon St. in Bridgeport. A Connecticut probate file {69} shows considerable court activity in regard to James D. Frary & Son Co. of Bridgeport, 1884 and 1901, which was insolvent, but neither he nor Harry was mentioned by name. There seems to have been no newspaper notice of his death {68} nor was his name found in the probate index. No vital records are located for his four children:

July 1848, England; d. after 1900 census. Henry's 1870 census is not yet located, but the 1875 NY State census at Phelps shows John and Maria Morley, dau. Maria Frary, wid., all b. England; and two Frary grandchildren, b. Ontario County. In 1880 the census at Phelps lists Ebenezer Harrington, wife Mirah, and his two Frary stepchildren. Possibly she was his housekeeper, not his wife, in view of the 1900 census at Newark City, Arcadia, Wayne Co., NY, which shows Maria Frary, b. July 1848, England, a domestic, living alone. A notation, "m. 3 yrs." is crossed out but matches the length of time she had been married to Henry. She was "mother of 2, both living."

Sep. 28, 1864, at Reformed Dutch Church, Richmond, Amelia Simonson {79:146}, b. ab. 1850, NY. He may be the George F. "Ferris" who lived with sister, Mary Lyon, at Glenville, CT, 1860. In 1870 George and Amelia, and their one child, lived with the family of Garret Simonson (probably her parents) at Northfield, Staten Island. George was then a clerk in government employment, so he is probably the George Frary, clerk/bookkeeper, listed in city directories of Brooklyn, 1872-1885. One known child:

E1036 Franklin[9] b. ab. 1867, NY.

On his pension record he stated that following the war he lived at Greenwich and Sprague, CT, and in 1907 he said, regarding his family: "All dead, I have no one but myself." He was probably named for a Richmond man, Dr. William G. Eadie, and the following was probably his son:

In 1880 Margaret is shown in the census, widowed or divorced, and her youngest two children living with her parents at Northfield, New Springville, Richmond County. The New York City directory for 1862/3 lists Robert A. Frary with an "eatinghouse" on Fulton Street. release, said his condition required immediate surgery to prolong his life. However, he died very soon. His unit was Co. H, 1 MI Engineers and Mechanics, and the obituary which appeared in The American Citizen, Jackson Co., said he was "late of the Withington Rifles, Fusileer Regiment." He was buried in Ohio. Myron was a carpenter at Elyria, 1850 and 1860 censuses; 1870 not found; 1880 has Alvira as head, with "Sheldon and Leonard, sons." Censuses show her birthplace twice as MA, once as NY. She and Leonard are not located in 1900 census but city directories for Chicago, IL, show her there 1896 thru 1904, at the same address as these two sons. The 1900 census shows "Miron," a patient at the Lorain County Infirmary. Six children, all born OH (except, possibly, Frank):

E1046 Sarah Phillips[9] b. July 1, 1847; m. Apr. 3, 1873, Albert O. Pember, a painter, of Oberlin, OH. Res. Elyria and Oberlin. Three children {290:209,265-6}:

The city directories for Chicago, IL, list him 1893 through 1898 as a railroad engineer and tower man. Those of 1904 through 1906, list him as a signalman. The 1900 census said Esther was the mother of one child, not living.

E1049 Augusta Hannah b. July 3, 1855; m. Oct. 27, 1874, Elyria, William Henry Baker; b. Oct. 2, 1851, Cleveland; son of John and Julia (Saylor) Baker of England {80 v2:818}. Res. Brooklyn, NY, 1901. Five children:

This suggests that Myron joined his brothers in the northern states, perhaps before Frank's birth, or even after 1860. The 1870 census may locate him there.

E1051 Leonard L. (Leonidas L.) b. ab. 1867; at Elyria with mother and Sheldon 1880; a mail carrier in Chicago, IL (1888-1915 city directories); not found in 1900 census. A card for his pension is interfiled with Civil War military pensions, reading: "2610 Florence Av., Chicago, Ill. R 10288." If information is available, it would be through US Civil Service Commission, 19th and F St., NW; Washington, DC, from their Bureau of Retirement and Insurance in St. Louis.

three years' service in the Civil War and was discharged Jan. 28, 1863, for disability. In 1880, and repeatedly thereafter, he applied for a pension but was rejected with the contention that his health problems existed before enlistment. His record describes him as 5'8", dark complexioned with brown eyes, black hair. After discharge he lived at Elyria and in 1878 went to Hayes City, Ellis Co., KS, for about four years. In 1884 his home was at West View twp., Olmsted, Cuyahoga Co., OH. If his son's 1900 census record is correct, he had also lived in Minnesota before 1860 {80 v2:489}.

A Mrs. Mary Frary, probably this one, was the second wife of DeWitt Clinton Johnson of Oronoco, Olmsted Co., MN, and Burton, OH. Johnson d. 1894 and Mary was living at Lakeville, MN, the following year {82 v2:1958}. Only one known child, taken from 1860 census:

They returned to Richland and, until he could provide a home, his sister Martha Whitney cared for Emma Julia, the boys living alternately with their grandparents, the Sanborns at Redwood, Jefferson Co., NY, and the Frarys at Richland.

A Missouri reference {91:431} says Hiram left home in 1856 to spend a year at Lake Co., IL, and a few months in Wisconsin and Iowa, before returning to his father's farm. In 1863 he married Emma Sanborn of St. Lawrence Co., NY, it says, and the following year they moved to Indiana and southern Michigan, renting land for 18 years. The 1880 census shows them at New Buffalo, Berrien Co., MI. In 1882 they moved to Johnson Co., MO, and bought 200 acres; by 1891 he had a total of 400 acres. THEODORE F.[8] FRARY brother of #E692 Charles
b. June 16, 1844, near Pulaski, Oswego Co., NY; d. Apr. 15, 1913, Lapeer, MI. He m. Feb. 14, 1871, Seneca Falls, NY, Martha Ellen Smith, b. Feb. 14, 1846; d. July 12, 1927, Pontiac, MI. In his youth he was a student at Syracuse (NY) Business School, specializing in plain and ornamental penmanship. In 1870 he had gone to Iowa and the 1870 census lists him in the household of George Wells at Grant, IA, where brother DeLos lived. After his marriage, he farmed at Three Oaks, Berrien Co., MI, a few years but returned to Richland, NY, where he also had a farm and was enumerated in the 1880 census. That year they moved west and lived on a farm until about 1907; however, they have not been located in the 1900 census. About 1908 he moved to Lapeer, MI, and was engaged in the creamery business with a son. A lengthy obituary appeared in the Lapeer newspaper and later, on May 8, at Three Oaks, MI, which said he had a remarkable capacity for friendships and was interested in everyone, rich or poor, young or old. He was a member of the board of deacons and teacher of a large Bible class in the Lapeer Baptist church. He was killed by a fast train at a railroad crossing. Three sons:

ALLEN W.[8] FRARY Delatus[7] Elihu[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1837, NY; d. by 1883, Napa, CA. He m. before 1873 Martha _____, b. Dec. 1845, OH. She m/2 ab. 1884, Charles Oldfield (1844-1900) and lived at San Francisco, CA. In the Civil War, Allen was in Co. A, 14th OH Inf., for three months, 1861, enlisting at Toledo. As Allen W. Frary/Farry, he enrolled May 21, 1862, for three years; was a first fireman, "born NY." (In his father's 1850 census, his birthplace is also given as NY.) He had blue eyes, brown hair, fair complexion, and was 5'7" tall. He served in the naval forces, and is also on the July, 1863, Descriptive Roll (draft record) as age 26, engineer, single, b. NY; res. Sylvania, Lucas Co., OH.

Allen is next found in California where city directories, 1880 and 1881, at San Francisco call him an engineer. Aunt Mary's letter said he died at Napa, CA, and the 1883 San Francisco directory lists Mattie Frary, widow, at the former address. In the 1900 census she is Martha Oldfield, wife of Charles, and her children, Allen and Virginia live with them. Two children are known, and Frank, of the same address, is probably a third:

E1098 Frank[9] b. ab. 1873?; m. A. P. _____. The 1898 San Francisco directory lists, at the Oldfields' address, Frank Frary, clerk, and Mrs. A. P. Frary, bakery worker. They are named again 1899, then no more, and are not found in 1900 census.

E1099 Virginia b. Dec. 1875, CA; not in city directories checked up to 1901, but the 1900 census says, "single, music teacher."

E1100 Allen L. b. Feb. 1878, CA; d. July 5, 1956, ae 78, Modesto, Stanislaus Co., CA (VR). He m. Matilda E. _____, who d. May 15, 1951, ae 65, Turlock, CA (VR). San Francisco directories list him: 1895, gasfitter; 1896, clerk; 1897, driver; 1898, cutter; 1901, policeman (no more checked.

CHARLES C.[8] FRARY Elihu Frank[7] Elihu[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. 1852-53, MI; m. by 1878, Abbie Baker, b. ab. 1855, OH. The 1880 census shows Charles and Abbie at Chicago where he was employed in the fire insurance business. His parents lived with them, and Elihu appears in city directories through 1886, when he probably went to Pontiac. Directories call Charles a bookkeeper, manager of an insurance office, and a clerk, during the years 1875 to 1887. The last four years he worked at the same address as his sixth cousin, #S76 Ossian D. Frary, which seems an odd coincidence. Charles is not in Chicago directories again except 1898 and 1905 and possibly went to Pontiac with his parents {347}. Probably had only one child:

E1101 Herbert B.[9] b. ab. 1878, Chicago, IL. The 1903 Cleveland directory calls him a laborer; the Chicago directories 1908-1913 call him a janitor.

MARK[8] FRARY Alvin Wales[7] Anson[6] David[5] Moses[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Feb. 1832, Oswego Co., NY; d. Sep. 24, 1903, Mexico, NY. He m. June 4, 1852, Georgetown, Brown Co., OH, Mary Fiscus (VR); b. Oct. 1834, OH; dau. of William Fiscus. Censuses show Mark in 1860 (as Marcus Fray) a cooper, at Fountain Green, Hancock Co., IL; a bridge builder in 1870, at Pymosa, Cass Co., IA; and in 1880, same county and trade, at Atlantic. He received a pension for his Civil War service in G Co., 2nd Regt, IL Cav.; and A Co., 118th Regt, IL Infantry. His horse fell on him in 1862, and he forever after suffered from the injuries. In 1882 he and Mary were divorced by mutual consent, and after that he traveled a great deal, frequently checking into soldiers' hospitals. Doctors were perplexed by his ailments and generally described him as "prematurely aged, disabled for manual labor; no evidence of any vicious habits." The 1900 census located him near the Togus Soldiers' Home in Maine. Mary and granddaughter, Goldy Frary, then lived with her father at Fountain Green, IL. The census called her "mother of four, three of them deceased." Censuses show three children:

He served in the Civil War, probably in US Navy, as he became a Chief Boatswain later, serving in Virginia and California {123}. Censuses 1880 and 1900, and city directories, show residence at

He lived at Chicago, then Galesburg, IL, and Burlington, IA, and returned to Chicago. In 1890 he claimed a pension because he was incapacitated by asthma and rheumatism. The 1900 census shows him at Chicago, still a conductor, and living with Nellie Taft, widowed sister. In later years, he moved to Berwyn Hotel, Berwyn, IL, and in 1938 his pension agent, concerned about the lonely 89 year old man, made him a visit. Finding Frank out, he waited in the lobby and soon noticed him breeze by, past the elevator, and up the stairs at a spry gait without holding the rail! His last years were in Colorado, living with his niece, Bertha Bergh. Relatives have confirmed the many newspaper accounts of his death, and the fact that he was found wearing a money belt holding $81,610. He had one child:

Elmer was a farm laborer at Dorr, but by 1918 they had moved to Grand Rapids where directories show him as a veneer worker. He is not to be confused with his cousin, #E746 Ira Elmer of Grand Rapids, called Ira, who sold real estate and insurance. Family records and census name seven children, all born in Michigan. The 1900 census calls Elmer's wife Margaret, but the family says Maud. In 1900 none of her five children was deceased.

He remained in this business in several cities as traced by city directory listings: 1902-07, Chicago, IL; 1910, Portland, OR; 1920-23, Pasadena, CA; not listed 1924. Ira and his cousin of the same name, #E743, kept their identities by the cousin being called Elmer I., as he is in the 1900 Grand Rapids directory, while this man was listed that year as Ira E. Frary. Elmer must have very soon moved to Dorr, where the census listed him as Ira E. The 1900 census listed Ira b. 1863 at Grand Rapids, in the real estate business, with three children:

E1149 +Ira Earl[9] b. Oct. 17, 1890, Grand Rapids.

b. 1831, Hanover, NH; d. July 28, 1863, Baton Rouge, LA, Union Army. He m. Aug. 26, 1854, West Boylston, MA, the Rev. Z. P. Wilds, Baptist, officiating, Elizabeth Thompson, b. ab. 1837, Lancaster, MA; d. Sep. 23, 1890; dau. of William and Abigail Thompson. Oscar enlisted Oct. 18, 1862, in Co. I, 53rd Regt., MA Inf., and died of illness the following July. Their marriage record, filed with his widow's pension application, says that he was ae 23, bootmaker, b. in Hanover, NH, son of Hiram and Lucy Frary. On Mar. 30, 1864, Elizabeth made an affidavit for the pension office that she and Oscar were parents of four children, Frederick, 6, Abbey, 4, William, 2 and Emma Frances, 8 months, but she submitted birth certificates for only the oldest three. All were living at Lancaster, MA. At the pension office's request she obtained a birth certificate from Mr. Thompson, Town Clerk of Lancaster. However, court records show a legal name change, Dec. 1, 1868, at Holden, Worcester Co., from Ida Mabel Thompson to Emma Frances Frary {98:184}. An index listing at Worcester Co. Probate Court reads: "Series A: 1865, Emma F. Frary, Holden; adoption, etc., file #22309; also, 1868."

Papers in the pension file show that Elizabeth drew payments for the four children, but in 1866 she signed papers (File #22310) for her son William to be adopted by Mary Ann Leavitt, a single woman, who lived in her household until 1868, when she left with the boy. The 1870 census at Holden shows Elizabeth with her three remaining children, Martha Thompson, 22, perhaps a sister, and two unidentified young children. Four children, as given to pension office; all b. Lancaster:

He was a miller in Bradford in the 1860s, a farmer in 1870, and an employee at the grist mill in 1880. He is next found in 1900 census at Custer Co., MT, School District #1, a teamster, with two children:

City directories list Edwin L., bookkeeper, at Joliet, IL, 1889; and bookkeeper, ticket agent, and manager, Chicago, 1891-99. At times his home was in the Chicago suburbs of Austin, Oak Park and Aurora. The census of 1900 at Davenport, Scott Co., IA, calls him a clerk in the railroad office, living with wife and one child. He was at Sacramento, or nearby, in 1913 when he witnessed a statement for a woman of that city, Cordelia (Davis) Braden, concerning her father's sizable estate. ALBERT J.[8] FRARY Franklin G.[7] Justus[6] Justus[5] Elisha[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Feb. 1857, IN. He m/1 Florence A. _____; b. ab. 1860, OR. or ID. He m/2, by 1890, a woman b. MO (name unknown). The 1880 census, District #1, Columbia Co., WA, calls him a farmer; wife Florence, b. OR, and son Walter shown. In 1900 at Dayton, in the same county, he is a day laborer and widowed. The 1880 census says son Walter's mother was b. OR; in 1900 it says ID. The mother of the others was b. MO. This difference, plus the eleven year interval between births of the first two children, is strong evidence that Albert married twice. Four children, all b. WA:

E1226 Walter A.[9] b. Feb. 1880; at Dayton, WA, 1900, living alone, hardware clerk. He may be the W. A. Frary, driver, listed in the 1906 Los Angeles, CA, city directory.

E1229 Claude b. Nov. 1895, WA.

Lulla lived with aunt, Henrietta, and Myrtle lived with cousins, William and Effie White, at Ashland, OH. The Cleveland 1906 directory shows Myrtle H., stenographer, living with William's mother Nancy and brother Charles. The White cousins are not identified. Two children:

E1232 Myrtle H.[9] b. Oct. 1883; of Cleveland, 1906.

HENRY H.[8] FRARY Elisha[7] Justus[6] Justus[5] Elisha[4] Isaac[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. ab. 1863, Lexington?, KY. He m. _____ Sesarer or Sestarer from Vincennes, IN. Possibly she is Mary Frary, "wid. of Harry H." of Far Rockaway, NY, shown in the 1933 NYC directory for Queens and Richmond Boroughs. Brooklyn city directories, checked for several years, show Henry as follows: 1889 and 1890, clerk; 1892, printer; 1893, clerk; 1894 and '95, not listed; 1896, Harry, bookkeeper; 1897, H'y H., bookkeeper; 1898, not listed; 1899, bookkeeper; 1901, agent. He is not yet located in the 1900 census, but the 1901 NYC directory says: "H'y H. Frary, broker at 50 Broadway, home at Brooklyn." At Chicago, Henry H., broker, appears in the 1903 directory only. Although Henry is once called a printer at Brooklyn, and once lived in Chicago, no connection is seen to another Henry H. Frary, printer, of Chicago, 1864-1877 (see Unrelated Frarys, Chapter V).

Henry's father in 1880 was an iron broker and he may have been in the same line. Son Harry's widow thought he had a seat on the stock exchange, but there is no record in the NY Stock Exchange archives. She also said there may have been a daughter, Anna, and named three sons, without ages or order of birth. Because no other record of them is found, they are offered only as possibilities:

She was then the wife of Louis Schultz who was "m. 11 yrs" while Diantha was "m. 19 yrs." Also in the home was a Frary girl, Schultz's stepdaughter. If Diantha married a Frary ab. 1881, Merritt seems to be the only one of suitable age. One child known:

EDWARD HARRISON[8] FRARY William Stoddard[7] John[6] John S.[5] John[4] Jonathan[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Apr. 25, 1840, Lyndon, Cattaraugus Co., NY; d. 1932, Canandaigua, NY. He m/1 July 8, 1860, Emily A. Cross; d. Apr. 20, 1893, Canandaigua; dau. of Joseph and Fidelia (Babcock) Cross. He m/2 June 17, 1896, Maryette Laura (Farmer) Clark; b. Oct., 1844 (per census); dau. of Nelson and Alida (Vrooman) Farmer of Centreville, Allegany Co., NY. Edward attended Rushford Academy and served in the Civil War in Co. A, 97th NY Vol. Infantry. In 1864 at the Battle of the Wilderness, he was severely wounded and for hours was left on the field for dead. He endured considerable pain for the rest of his life and received a pension. He had been a carpenter but turned to the less physically demanding occupation of tax collector and justice of the peace.

Records in his pension file once call his first wife Emily A. Cross Babcock, and she was probably mother of Alice who lived with them, called "dau." Babcock in 1870 and Mrs. Alice Watson in 1880.

Two county histories give accounts of Edward {103 v2:68} & {104:82-4}, but the latter has an incorrect lineage. He lived at Canandaigua, NY, and had three children:

Shown again, in the 1900 census, as Farary, they are both assigned incorrect birthdates. She is called the mother of one child who was still living. Since no child was found in the 1880 census, presumably one was born that year or soon after and had left home by 1900, if this census is correct.

#E936
M. F.[9] FRARY Almon P.[8] Phineas[7] John[6] Joseph[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. say 1853, CA; m. (name unknown). The 1900 census for #E522 Almon P.[8] showed two grandchildren born in Arizona, whose father is not identified. Although the birthplaces of their parents are given as IA for the father, and CA for the mother, this is probably another instance in which the census record switched the birthplaces of a couple. All that is known of M. F. is the listing in The Official Register of U.S. Officers, Employees, Civil, Military, Naval and Postal (1897), vol. I:1116--"M. F. Frary, mail special carrier; paid 10.33 per quarter; Yarnell, Arizona." Although this is not proof that Almon and M. F. were father and son, what we do know about them fits very nicely. This was a mining town, populated amost entirely by men who probably left their families in valley communities. Since Almon Sr. and Jr. were both in the mining business, a mining area is a likely place to find another son. Almon's nephew, #E940 Frank, also carried mail, in connection with his other business. Almon, a mine owner, would have associates to oversee operations, and they could handle mail deliveries while making their rounds. Assuming this relationship, we name the two children (and there may be others):

E1289 Frank[10] b. Aug. 1882, AZ.
E1290 Mabel b. Feb. 1884, AZ.

He was in the stagecoach and trucking business, had federal mail contracts, and was active in civic affairs. He was Mayor of San Diego for two terms, 1902-6. {106 v16:143-4, written 1928}. GEORGE ISAAC[9] FRARY George R.[8] Newell[7] John[6] Joseph[5] Joseph[4] Samuel[3] Eleazer[2] John[1]
b. Nov. 18, 1854, Portland?, WI; d. Jan. 21, 1942, Salt Lake City, UT; bur. there. He m. June 2, 1879, Modena, WI, Alice Edith Phillips, b. July 21, 1859, NY; d. Sep. 21, 1897, on Antelope Island, Great Salt Lake, UT; dau. of Charles and Catherine (Babcock) Phillips. Before marriage, Alice taught school at Fall River, WI. George left shortly after their marriage, for Denver, CO, driving overland. He made preparations for a home and sent for Alice to join him. By 1882 #E943 Oren and his wife, Alice's cousin, moved to Denver also. George was a miller for several years before receiving a homestead grant on Antelope Island. While he prepared that land, his family stayed at Syracuse near the lake, moving to the island in 1891. He engaged in agriculture and grazing, and also worked as a guard for a company. He cultivated five acres the first year and 16 acres by 1899, says his homestead entry file {348}.

During this time, Alice went to the mainland when a baby's birth was due, returning soon after to the island home. After being home a while with her seventh child, she was taken sick, and George built a huge bonfire on the island's bank to signal those on the mainland to bring help. But before help reached them, Alice had died, leaving the care of her little children to her eldest daughter, Grace. George buried his wife near the house and planted a peach tree to mark the spot. His daughters recall that all his life he loved the lake and built an excursion boat, "The Water Lily," to take vacationers to resorts. He moved from the island in 1901, living first at Ogden and then near Promontory, where he transported surveyors about the lake; he also worked at the north end, drilling for oil. These are but a few of the reminiscences of his daughters, Grace and Dora, who related them in 1978. Other memories of Antelope Island, of George Frary and others, have been published by Daughters of Utah Pioneers {107 2:135-6, pub. 1959; 9:641-2; 11:459}; also {108:38-39, "A Lonely Grave}. Seven children; four at Denver, CO, two at Salt Lake City, and one at Syracuse, UT.

Directories of that city, 1887 thru 1898, list him as a salesman for Chas. H. Myers & Co., wholesalers of wines and liquors. He lived at the address of that Myers family, 922 McCullough St., with Charles H., Alexis, Ambrose and Mrs. Julia A. Myers. The 1901 Baltimore directory shows at that address Mrs. Julia S. Frary, but not Harry. Neither one is found in the 1900 census, but directories show Mrs. Julia intermittently to 1942. Probably two children:

E1369 Julia M.[10] b. say 1888. Directories show her and mother with the Myers family in 1908, but in 1909 Julia M. is not found; was perhaps married.
E1370 Harry A. b. say 1890; m. ab. 1935, Agnes M. Cash of Baltimore, MD. He and his mother were at the Myers address in 1915, and in 1918 he was listed as in the US Army. Next appearing in the 1927 directory, he was a hairdresser in partnership with Agnes M. Cash, living with the Cash family, and in 1936 she is called Agnes C. Frary. They and their business are still listed in 1942 but not 1955. The 1956 directory calls her the widow of Harry. As a resident of Baltimore in 1978, she declined to give information except to say Harry was from the Meriden family and had "died 30 years ago"; that she had no children. She mentioned nieces and nephews in Hagerstown, MD, whom she wouldn't identify. Agnes may have been a second wife and he may have had children by an earlier marriage.

Chapter V--UNPLACED FRARYS

This chapter is presented in two parts. The first lists alphabetically individuals who in all probability are descendants of John[1] and Prudence but whose descent cannot be traced through existing records. One of these, #166, is T. Sherman Frary, who with his many descendants is presented separately after the initial listing. As outlined there, T. Sherman may well be the son of #E220, Job, but lack of confirmation dictates this location, since so many lineages would be affected by an incorrect attribution.

1. _____ FRARY; at Sandusky Co., OH, 1835. A county history {332:787} says: "Woodsville twp: Frederick Myerholtz and a Mr. Frary located in the Hurralbrink neighborhood. Both are dead." (1882)

2. A. FRAREY; teacher, 1846, MI, Clinton Co., Victor twp; received a teacher's certificate {180:515}.

3. ALBERT (FRARY?); b. ab. 1831, NY, jeweler; 1860 census, IL, Livingston Co., Pontiac; with Hannah b. ab. 1833 NH, and Mary b. ab. 1858, VT.

4. ALBERT FRARY; b. ab. 1835 NY (parents b. VT and NY), engineer on steamer; San Francisco, CA, census 1880. Wife Minnie 34 b. ME and her parents b. ME; dau. Minnie C. b. ab. 1876; Ellen b. ab. 1878, both in CA.

5. ALBERT FRARY; wife Charlotte, retired; 1977 Grand Rapids, MI, city directory.

6. ALICE FRARY; b. ab. 1889; d. Alameda Co., CA, ae 42y, Jan. 8, 1932; spouse, F. Frary. CA VR {61}.

7. ANDY F. FRARY; res. 1971, Laguna Beach, CA; 20 mi. so. of Los Angeles. Jane Lee Frary at same address. See Dennis A. Frary.

8. ANN FRARY (Mrs.); b. ab. 1855 NY (parents b. VT); res. 1880, Lysander, Onondaga Co., NY; servant with John Porter b. ab. 1805 VT, and wife Nancy b. ab. 1810, NY. (census)

9. ANN FRARY (Mrs.); in 1971, residing at Houston, TX. Also there at other street addresses, that year, were Claude (brother of Cliffton, q.v. under Unplaced Frarys), and Mrs. Louise Frary, widow of #E1154 Vern. No relationship is known to either.

10. ANNA "FRERY" (Mrs.); b. Jan. 1824 IN; parents b. IN; widow in 1900 census, living alone at Perry, Evansville City, Vanderburgh Co., IN: "mar. 40 yrs, 6 ch., 4 living."

11. ANNABELLA FRARY; b. ab. 1843 NY; 1850 census at Neversink, Sullivan Co., NY, living with Joseph Cozen 59 b. CT, Mary Cozen 55 b. NJ; and Ismascah (?) Cozen 53 b. CT.

12. ANNIE A. FRARY; of Oswego Co., NY; a probate index lists her will, probated Sep. 25, 1906, Bk 5, p. 553.

13. ARDELIA FRARY (Mrs.); b. Aug. 1817 MA (parents b. MA) 1900 census; FL, Green Cove Spring, Clay Co.; living with dau., Luthera, and her husband, Cyrus Bemis. Ardelia was mother of four, three of them living, but whether they were of her Frary husband, or of an earlier marriage, is not learned. The census says Luthera was b. Feb. 1840 MA; parents b. MA. She m. ab. 1868; possibly in Illinois.

14. ARTHUR S. FRARY; res. ab. 1970 at 781 Broadway, Brooklyn, NY.

15. ASHER P. FRARY; b. ab. 1826 MA. Census, 1850, MA, Hampshire Co., Norwich; occ: operator; res. with William Taylor 40, basketmaker; Mrs. Taylor and 3 ch.; 4 other young men, all operators. Perhaps this surname should be Ferry, Fary or other.

16. AURELIA FRARY; of Milton, NY, m. July 8, 1819, at Milton to Hedges Ames of Milton, Saratoga County {223}. Census of 1850 shows them at Ellery, Chautauqua Co., Hedges ae 60 b. NY, farmer; "Orrilla" 48 b. NY; Lydia 23; David 20; Freeman 27.

17. B___ FRARY; first name illegible in 1880 IA Soundex census but perhaps Brooks; very faded, and surname may also be wrong. He was ae 50 (b. ab. 1830 NY), Julia 30 b. WI; Frank 2 b. MN. Code to census record is illegible.

18. BART FRARY; res. Westfield, WI, 1979-80.

19. BENJAMIN FRARY (Tracy?); War of 1812, Warren's Regt, NY militia. A private on roll dated at Hamburg, Dec. 16, 1813-Jan. 4, 1814, Capt. James Stevens Co.; Lt. Col. Wm. Warren. His National Archives service file at Wash., DC, contains two cards for Tracy and one for Frary. See George Frary/Tracy.

20. BENJAMIN FRARY; PRESLEY FRARY; and others of Kosciusko Co, IN, 1800's. This county produces many fragmentary records of Frarys which suggest a close relationship. As yet no connection has been made to living descendants. References are federal census schedules; DAR-compiled marriage and gravestone records; a note of Chauncey Frary's late widow; and Presley Frary's Civil War pension file. Because "birthplaces," as given in censuses by family or neighbors, are frequently the childhood residences and not the places of birth, particular importance is placed on Presley's own statement to the US Pension Office that he was born in Wayne Co., OH, in the mid-1820s.

Frary men, #E51 Elihu and his grown sons, #E189 Mordecai and #E192 Orange, are the only Frarys shown that early in Wayne Co., OH, land, vital and probate records. Orange's history seems well known, but Mordecai's is obscure. Not named in the 1830 census in Ohio, Mordecai and/or his family had probably moved on. Indiana land and probate records should be searched. As the basis for further research, a tentative family is constructed from all Kosciusko County Frary records available to us, with none left over. The 1880 and 1900 censuses quoted give birthplaces of the subject and parents. Additional information is needed to prove descent from Mordecai, as seems likely, or from some other, but these appear to be two sisters and two brothers:

A) Belinda Frary, b. ab. 1816 OH. She m. Apr. 18, 1844, in Kosciusko Co., IN, P. Warner, minister, officiating, Noah Roudabush {183}. The 1850 census, Clay, Kosciusko Co., p. 383R, shows this family: Noah Roudabush ae 40, b. OH, farmer; Balinda 34 b. OH; Milton? 5, Ann M. 4, and Anthony 1, all b. IN.

B) Charity (Frary?) b. ab. 1820-1; thought to be a Frary because Benjamin (to follow) had a dau. Charity; and because Presley Frary's household, 1850 census, Warsaw, IN, Kosciusko Co., included this Shoup family: Daniel 39 b. PA; Charite 29 b. IN (birthplace probably should be OH); Catharine 7 IN; Caroline 4 IN. In 1880 Daniel Shoup is found with a second wife.

C) Benjamin Frary, b. ab. 1823 OH. He m. Sep. 11, 1845, at Kosciusko Co., N. Green, minister, officiating, Pamela Frush {183}. The 1850 census, Wayne twp., Kosciusko Co., p. 829, shows him age 26, b. OH, farmer; "Pennelia" 25 b. VA; and Charity 1 b. IN. Two Frary girls, with a Virginia-born mother fit here, and George is added as a very good possibility. If Benjamin's 1860 census could be found, it might show these three children:

i Charity b. ab. 1849 IN--not found after 1850 census.

ii Eunice b. Sep. 1853 IN. She m. Aug. 24, 1882, at Kosciusko Co., William W. Thomas {183}. He had been a widower as shown in the 1880 census at Walnut, Marshall Co., IN. The 1900 census, Clay, Kosciusko Co., calls him a farmer, b. 1853 IN; Eunice b. Sep. 1853 IN, parents b. VA (might be error for father), her two stepchildren and her own three: Chester 16, Earl 12, and Marie 5, surname Thomas.

iii Emma J. b. Nov. 1856 IN. She m. Oct. 22, 1885, Kosciusko Co., A. Mahin, minister, officiating, William H. Vanness {183}. The 1900 census, Goshen city in Elkhart twp., Elkhart Co., IN, shows William H. Vanness b. Dec. 1854 OH, parents b. OH and France; occ. paperhanger; Emma, wife, b. Nov. 1856 IN (OH VA) and children, Russell b. July 1886, and Edna b. July 1889, both IN; surname Vanness.

iv George b. perhaps 1860?, possibly at Elkhart Co., IN. He m. Sarah Catherine _____ (ab. mid-1880's?). He probably had died by 1894 when the following marriage was recorded in Kosciusko Co.: "Katey Frary m. William H. Ames, June 18, 1894, by S. Light, minister" {183}. The census of 1900, Warsaw, shows: Wm H. Ames b. Feb. 1854 IN (parents IN IN) teamster; Sarah C., wife, b. June 1864 IN (PA PA); Bessie F. Frary b. Apr. 1888 dau. b. IN (IN IN); and Chauncy Frary b. Apr. 1890 son b. IN (IN IN) and Charles A. Ames, b. Jan. 1880.

Mrs. Hazel Frary of Milwaukee, WI, wrote in 1970: "My husband, Chauncey M. Frary, passed away 18 years ago and he was the last of that branch of the family. He was born in Warsaw, Ind., Apr. 8, 1890. He had one sister, Bessie, also deceased. Their father was George Frary and I believe born in Elkhart, Ind., but I understood the family originally came from the Penna. Dutch country."

D) Presley G. Frary, b. 1825-6 Wayne Co., OH; d. Apr. 28, 1900, ae 75, Kosciusko Co., IN; bur. Akron Cem., Akron, Fulton Co., IN, according to death certificate. He m/1 Dec. 21, 1848, Kosciusko Co. {183}, Wealthy (Eddy) Dean, b. Jan. 22, 1826, NY; d. July 30, 1882; bur. Oakwood Cem., Warsaw. She was dau. of Jonathan and Polly (Ford) Eddy, and had m/1 Benjamin Dean {268:945,979} by whom she had a dau. shown as a Frary in 1860 census. Divorced the winter of 1874/5, Presley m/2 Apr. 1, 1875, Kosciusko Co., S. Wells, J.P., officiating, Mary A. Presnall, who was living 1898, not found 1900 {183}. Presley was in Co. B, 44th IN Vol. Inf., and Co. E, 12th IN Inf., corp.; enrolled at Pierceton 1862, discharged 1863, and drew a pension for chronic illness. Census of 1850, Warsaw, calls him a carpenter; and shows 10 mo. old dau. Ann. In 1860 at Wayne, only wife, Wealthy, and her dau. live with him. Also, 1860, Wayne, in household of Robert Cowan 49, b. PA, and Jane Cowan 47, PA, are Ann E. Frary and Maybell Frary with no ages or birthplaces. In 1880, at Warsaw, Presley is age 53, b. OH, parents b. PA, and dau. Jennie G. Frary, ae 11 mos., b. WI. In spaces for birthplaces of her parents, it says: "can't tel," which might indicate they had adopted her. She is the only child he mentioned to the pension office. Three daughters:

i Anna Eliza b. ab. Aug. 1849, IN; d. July 27, 1872; bur. Oakwood Cem. with her mother, Wealthy {182 v2:21}. She m. July 2, 1871, Kosciusko Co., Abram Weaver {183}. Named in ref. {268}.

ii Mabel b. ab. 1852? IN. Named in Eddy history {268}. She m. Dec. 24, 1879, Kosciusko Co., George Kleeder, by F. Boyd, minister {183}. Perhaps she d. by 1900 when census shows in that county, at Milford City, Van Buren twp, George Kleder b. 1852, and a son Donald Kleder b. Sep. 1881; also a wife of three years named Alice.

iii Jennie Gertrude b. July 6, 1879, WI, probably adopted. She m. Jan. 16, 1899, Kosciusko Co., Everett C. Brewer; E. Hill, minister {183}. They could not be located in 1900 census in Indiana.

21. BERT[1] FRARY; of Leominster, MA. b. Sep. (1867?, family tradition). He m. ab. 1886 Antonia King;b. Dec. 1861, CT. A teamster at Leominster, 1900. If tradition correctly places him as son of #E761 Oscar[8], his birthdate is incorrect. Of five children, four were living 1900:

A) Fred[2] b. June 1888.

B) Elizabeth b. Mar. 1891.

C) Ernest C. b. Sep. 9, 1896, Waltham, MA; d. there 1962. He m. Margaret Marie ____; b. Aug. 2, 1900; d. Sep. 19, 1967. He was a school principal. Three or four children:

ii Ernest T. b. ab. 1930? He m. Barbara M. ____; listed in 1977 Waltham directory; he a water meter reader. Another Frary at same address ab. 1970, probably a daughter:
  a) Ruth Ellen[4] b. ab. 1952?

iii Margaret b. ab. 1933?

iv Herbert? b. ab. 1935?

D) Herbert C. b. Jan. 1, 1898, Leominster, MA; d. May 28, 1970, Danvers, MA. He m. Mar. 5, 1926, Blanche Duchesneau, b. May 5, 1907. One child:

93. JOHN FRARY; of Los Angeles, CA, mason (1901 city dir.).

94. JOHN B. FRARY; per 1840 census was b. 1800-10; but in 1860 census he is called 40, or b. 1820. Either there were two named John B. or the 1860 census age was lowered because he had a young wife. He may be #E488, son of #E220 Job, or perhaps his age in the 1880 census was exaggerated, because of a young wife, and he was #E486, b. 1804-10. The following records were found:

1840, JOHN B, OH, Painesville, Lake Co., ae 30/40; 1 female 30/40; two females ae 10/15 and 5/10. Perhaps this woman was Flossy Frary, ae 34, at Painesville in 1850 census (see #52 above). Job was in the adjacent town of Concord, Lake Co., 1830 and 1840. (It was Geauga Co. 1830).

Cleveland City Dir.: 1916, Charles E., no occ. given; 1919 clerk; 1921, publicity sec'y for Cleveland Museum of Art; 1925, ass't employment manager. In 1978 an Ohio friend recalled a Mr. Frary, probably Charles, who headed a Huron Co. department, probably welfare, and died "years ago."

100. JOSEPH FRARY (Tracy ?); War of 1812, NY, Sprague's 55th Regt; Feb., Mar. and Sep. 1812. His service file has 1 Frary and 3 Tracy cards.

101. JOSEPH H. FRARY, F. J. FRARY; painters; and others of Wisconsin and California. It seems safe to say that #E52 Festus was grandfather of these men. He was the father of #E200 Luther, a painter, whose sons, Joseph 19, and Martin 16, were both painters, all of Oswego, NY (1850 census). Another son of Festus, #E202 Russell, had lived briefly in Wisconsin about 1845, and his wife's parents were still there in 1850 as shown in the Berlin, Marquette Co., WI, census. Living with them at Berlin were F. J. Frary (J. F. in index) ae 25, painter, b. NY; and Mary G. Frary, 23, NY. At 11th District, Winnebago, WI, 20 miles away, Joseph H. Frary, 21, painter, b. NY, boarded with Julian Kellogg, a 28-year old mason from New York.

There is certainly some connection between the painters of Wisconsin and some California men years later, probably two generations with the same names. More details are needed to determine relationships. Frary records on this family are as follows:

1870, JOSEPH, painter; Antioch, Contra Costa Co., CA; in appendix to an Oakland, Alameda Co., CA, directory.

1870, JAMES H., May 3; grantor {Contra Costa Co., deeds, v.18:536} of Antioch, sold to wife, Elizabeth, for $1 and affection, a restaurant in Antioch with all equipment; signed, "J. H. Frary, alias honest Frary." County death records begin 1873, and the index to their probate records to 1945 has no Frary. Possibly he and Joseph were planning a venture in the dangerous gold mine country, and James made this provision for his family. Neither is found at Antioch in the 1870 census, but both names appear later in Oakland directories.

1870, ELIZABETH "FRERY," head of household, in census at Township #3, p.o. Martinez: Elizabeth 35 b. NY; Frederick 13 MN; Minnie 10 OR; Frank 8 WA Terr.; Ella 4 OR.

1877, FRED and JOSEPH H., painters, at same address, Oakland.
1878, J. H., restauranteur, and J. F., painter, together, Oakland.
1879, J. F., painter (also had a business address); Frank and Fred, occ. of each: "painter for J. F."; also J. H., no occ.; same address.
1880, FRANK, FRED and JOSEPH F., painters, same address, Oakland.
1880, J. F. FRARY, census, head of family; ae 23, b. MN, parents b. NY, painter; E., mother, 46, NY, parents b. Can. and Ire.; Milton Gilkey, 22 MI, parents b. Oakland, CA.
1883, FRANK, FRED, and JOSEPH F., painters, same address, Oakland; not listed in 1887 directory. Perhaps this was a multiple dwelling.
1900, ELIZABETH, census at Santa Cruz, CA, living alone; b. Apr. 1833, ae 67, b. NY; father b. Can.; mo. b. Ireland. Occ: dealer in candy. Widow, mother of 5, only 1 living.

102. JUANITA FRARY, aka Juanita Alice Bonds; aka Juanita Alice Cross; b. June 28, 1925, Oakland, CA. Res. Las Vegas, NV, ab. 1969. In 1975, at Alameda, CA, she suffered injuries in a fall and sued the apartment house owner, 1976. She was then a clerk-typist. (Superior Court, Contra Costa Co., CA, Case #162262; case dismissed.) The directory at Napa, CA, 1977 calls her a teacher in the public schools. Principal reference was the court record.

1900, GRACE B., moved to Foxhome, MN. (Note: near Fargo, ND). This Julia may be the one who in 1909 applied for homestead entry #02729 at the Vancouver, WA, land office. George B., above, is probably #E716, b. 1842, a railroad worker. Grace B. is probably the one of that name who applied in 1909 to the Lewistown, MT, land office for homestead certificate #06467.

104. JULIA FRARY (Mrs.); b. Feb. 1858, NY; parents b. NY; 1900 census at So. Butte, Silver Bow Co., MT; m. 20 yrs; no children; occ.: cook.

His death certificate, gives birthdate but not names of parents. Bur. at Mt. View Cemetery. The Masonic Lodge secretary had no additional data, 1979 {215:400}.

A Richland Co., OH, record says that Leander Frary married Amelia Fairbanks {194} and a Fairbanks genealogy {237:378-9} states: "Amelia Abigail Fairbanks, b. Feb. 5, 1834, Connewango, NY, m/1 Leander W. Frary, Oct. 5, 1852. He died. She m/2 M. T. Smedley, Dec. 27, 1856, of Oshkosh, WI. She d. June 16, 1880. Cedar Grove, Mechanicsville, IA. One Frary child: Alice Louise, b. Jan. 16, 1854; m/1 Mar. 16, 1870, Arland E. Brown; m/2 June 28, 1887, Phillip H. Sherwin." The lack of details on Leander's "death" makes this statement suspect; more likely they were divorced. L. W. Frary was a member of F&S Masons, Bellevue Lodge 273, OH, chartered 1855, but their secretary reports that records are not organized and he finds no information on L. W. Possibly this is #E814 Lankford W. Frary. Leander is also probably L. W. of San Francisco, CA, 1881 (city dir.).

At Pasadena, the 1895 directory (earliest available) called Leander W. a retired physician, but the 1900 census misspelled his name: Leander W. Farry, b. July 1825, ae 74, b. NY, parents b. NY, m. 37 yrs.; Alice Clara, wife, b. May 1843, ae 57, b. CT, parents b. CT, mother of 1 child, living; Mary J. Gilbert, mother-in-law, b. June 1821, ae 78, b. CT, parents b. CT, mother of 1 child, living. Also shown at that address were their coachman and cook. Presumably Leander was father of Amelia Fairbanks' dau., Alice; also of Alice (Gilbert's) child. It is possible he had another marriage between 1856 and 1863. Despite the newspaper notice mentioning only the widow, probate records might show descendants or relatives.

108. LEPOLDINE FRARY; m. Nov. 16, 1857, at Trinity P.E. Church, New Haven, CT, Joseph Sligger, both of that city {113}. A directory, a few years later, showed a Joseph Sleicher, no Sligger.

T. SHERMAN AND HIS DESCENDANTS

#TS1
T. SHERMAN[1] FRARY
b. 1824-25, NY (stated also as OH); prob. d. bet. 1864 and 1870, IL or KS. He m. Feb. 26, 1846, Greene Co., IL, Joel Terry, min., officiating (VR), Charlotte? Marina Scoggins; b. ab. 1826-7, KY (also stated as IL). S. (L.?) J. Scoggins gave written permission for his daughter's marriage. She m/2 Frederick Reineike, b. ab. 1820, Prussia.

In 1846 two other Frarys lived in Greene Co., IL, sons of #E220 Job whose censuses show a third son, b. NY, just Sherman's age. Caution, perhaps unwarranted, prevents placing him now as son of Job. Sherman's descendants are so numerous that an incorrect identification would affect too many lineages, but a check of deeds and probate records may soon provide proof.

Sherman may be T. S. "Frany" at El Dorado Co., CA, 1852, "ae 28, b. NY, res. in NY," {359 v2}, but he was at Greene Co., IL, in both 1850 census and 1860 census, in Kane Precinct. The 1863 Civil War draft records list him as T. S. Frarey, 38, farmer, b. NY, Zanesville Pct., Montgomery Co., IL. The 1870 census, Mill Creek, Bourbon Co., KS, shows "Marand" Frary, family head, with $11,600 in real estate. If this amount is correct, it seems likely that Sherman had accompanied his family to Kansas. At the same town, the 1880 census shows Frederick Reineike with wife, Charlotte M., three of his children, and his stepchildren, John G. and Sarah Frary.

Children and information are from censuses and reminiscences of a descendant, #TS19 Pauline Birdsall. Six children:

TS2 Hily Ann[2] b. Apr./May 1850. Not with mother, 1870, probably married. "Aunt Hily died in Nebraska."
TS3 +Sherman b. Aug. 29, 1852, IL (Greene Co.?).

She was sister of Hazel who married #TS12 Robert. Her child by her first marriage was adopted by Claude. They lived at Fort Scott where he was a mail carrier, like his father. Paralysis prevented his completing his term of service and his daughter, Pauline, worked as a carrier five years, to his credit. The flu epidemic of 1918-19 was a very personal tragedy in the life of this family when they lost four of their six children, all b. at Fort Scott:

TS18 +Phillip Thurmond[4] b. Apr. 23, 1904. Born a Clark, he was adopted by his stepfather.
TS19 Pauline b. Apr. 13, 1909. She m. Nov. 14, 1941, Lamar, MO, Miles C. Birdsall; b. May 13, 1893; d. 1953. Frederick served in the Philippine Insurrection, 1899 to 1901, Co. K, 33rd Regt., US Vol. Inf., and was pensioned because of malarial fever. Considerable interesting information is in his pension file. He was a farmer, switchman, conductor, and miner; was 5'9" tall, fair complexioned; had dark blue eyes, dark brown hair. They lived briefly at Oklahoma City, OK, 1905, Parsons, KS, 1907; then Elkville, IL and returned to Fort Scott shortly before his death. Edna, his young widow, tried to keep the family together, and in 1926 went to Flint, MI, to get work. In 1933 she wrote the pension office that she was "going west to be married." He was a bootmaker at New York, NY, 1845 (city dir.); a shoemaker at Syracuse, NY, 1846 thru '67 (dir.); and in Chicago, IL, directories 1868 thru '75 with no occupation, probably living with a married daughter. His wife, Ann, had died July 22, 1859, Buffalo, NY, at the home of her dau., Mrs. E. J. Clarke {162 v3:9:142} & {361}. See Chapter V, Unplaced Frarys, #49 Emily Eliza, probably a daughter who, if she married again, could be Mrs. Clarke.

John Frary b. 1822-3, England; d. Aug. 18, 1872, ae 49, Syracuse; is assumed to be a son. He m. Emily Ayscough, b. 1825 England; d. Dec. 1877. All four are bur. at Rose Hill Cem., Syracuse, on Robert's lot. All res. in the 5th Ward (1855 state census) Syracuse, and were members of Trinity Church. Although John and Emily were at that city by 1842, he is not listed 1851 in the first city dir., but appears 1853 thru '71, except for 1862 when he worked at Auburn, NY, and 1866 when the name Thomas is given, apparently an error. He was usually a cutter and fitter in a shoe factory but also a prompter and stage manager for Halle's Varieties. Emily was a music teacher and actress, noted as an "excellent performer" and for her songs and "sprightly actions" {361}.

Edgar Frarey, b. Sep. 1859 MI; Rosa, wife, Apr. 1881 (sic); sons Lewis J., Jan. 1893; Glen M., Sep. 1897; and dau. Mary A., July 1899; all at MI.
